TOLL EXEMPTION BILL NOW IN HANDS OF THE PRESIDENT

Washington, June 12–Without the formality of a conference, the house today by a vote of 216 to 71 accepted the senate amendment to the repeal of the Panama canal tolls exemption and sent the bill to President Wilson for his signature.

WAR IMMINENT BETWEEN TURKEY AND GREECE

PRESIDENT WILSON IS VICTOR IN THE FREE TOLLS BATTLE

Washington, June 12–Repeal of Panama canal tolls exemption for the American coastwise shipping passed the Senate last night, 50 to 35. The measure now goes back to the House which is expected to accept the Simmons-Norris amendment specifically reserving all rights the United States may have under the Hay-Pauncefote treaty.

The passage of the bill after a bitter struggle that has lasted for several months was regarded last night as another victory for President Wilson. Although 13 Republicans came to the aid of the 37 Democrats who voted for the bill on final passage, the President initiated the movement in his party for repeal, and it was behind him that many of the Democrats who voted "aye" lined up on the last test.

Measure Is In House

Washington, June 12.—The bill to repeal the tolls exemption clause of the Panama act which finally was passed by the senate last night by a vote of 50 to 35, was sent to the house today for action by that body on the senate amendments.

Whether this bill will be taken up by the house as a body, or will be left for the conference to adjust is not yet certain. It is certain that President Wilson has agreed to accept the Simmons-Norris compromise amendment and this is expected to expedite matters in the house.

Should the house agree at once to the senate bill as it stands the measure would have to go back to the senate only for signature, but if the house conferees make changes it again would have to be put before both bodies for ratification before going to the president for his signature. This would cause a renewal of the bitter fight that characterized the final hours of the discussion in the senate.

Vote In House This Afternoon

Washington, June 12—A final vote in the house on the Simmons-Norris amendment to the Panama repeal bill was expected in the house this afternoon when the bill with the senate amendment reached the house. Chairman Adamson moved that the house concur in the amendment and asked for an hour and a half debate.

Representatives Murdock and Campbell, of Kansas; Humphrey, of Washington, and Hughes, of West Virginia, declared they would debate the amendment.

President Wilson will accept the Simmons-Norris amendment. It was said he will issue a memorandum later setting forth his views on the subject and characterizing the amendment unnecessary. It is certain he will not veto the bill because it contains an amendment.

Dissolves Cabinet

Copenhagen, Denmark, June 12—King Christian, Tenth of Denmark, today placed an unexpected obstacle in the way of the plan of the Danish cabinet to solve the deadlock on the election reform, the principal feature, was the woman suffrage plank, by dissolving the upper house of parliament. The king objected to the inclusion in the dissolution of the 12 members of the upper house nominated by him, and declared he wished only the other 54 members to be affected. If the king carries out his orders it is thought the entire cabinet will resign.

PRESIDENT AT '79 CLASS RE-UNION

Washington, June 12.—President Wilson will leave tomorrow at 8 a. m. for Princeton, N. J., to attend the reunion of the class of '79, of which he is a member. Mr. Wilson will also attend the Princeton-Yale baseball game. He plans to leave Princeton tomorrow night at 11, arriving in Washington at 7 o'clock Sunday morning.

WILL ENDORSE SUFFRAGE

Chicago, June 12.—Woman suffrage will receive endorsement at the convention of the general Federation of Woman's Clubs in session here. This announcement was made suddenly but very emphatically by Mrs. Perry V. Pennybacker, president of the federation, at the opening of today's session. She was greeted with a storm of applause.

LANDING SUPPLIES CAUSING HIGH SPEED IN MEDIATION PARLEY

Niagara Falls, Ont., June 12.—Forced suddenly from a state of inaction and doubt to the point where the American and Mexican delegates will henceforth meet face to face before the mediators in their efforts to find a solution for the pacification of Mexico through mediation, reached a critical stage today.

On the conferences which are to follow will rest the success or failure in the negotiations looking toward an agreement between the American delegates and the delegates of General Huerta. A full conference is expected sometime today.

At the American headquarters there was optimism—a belief that substantial progress has been made. This was not reflected, however, among the Mexican delegates. The mediators have told the American delegates that they believe a man of constitutionalist sympathy, though not a man who is not an active fighter, for leader, should be named as the provisional president and that the Mexicans will accept any reasonable selection. The Americans are said to have made no objection to the names suggested by the mediators.

Washington Is Optimistic

Washington, June 12.—That a protocol containing the Mexican peace plan will be ready for signing by the middle of next week, was the confident belief expressed here today.

It is believed certain that Carranza will be a party to the plan. He is expected to name men already at the ground, or members of the junta here. In the meantime the mediators will go ahead with their plans. Secretary Bryan is confident Carranza will accept the plan espoused by the mediators.

The announcement that from now on their conferences would be with the Huerta and United States commissioners present was accepted here as making for rapid progress. With the landing of the Antilla's cargo the rebels are now sufficiently equipped to make an immediate advance on Mexico City. The knowledge of this fact is believed to prove potent for high speed at the mediation conference. Officials here are very optimistic.

Following a conference with President Wilson, Secretary Tumulty gave out the following: "The president authorizes me to say that the Mexican situation so far as mediation is concerned is very encouraging. The outlook is very good."

Further than this the secretary would not comment. He let it be known, however, that Carranza had announced his intention of participating in the mediation proceedings.

CYCLONE WRECKS THE TOWN OF MARSEILLES

Marion, O., June 12.—Samuel Althouse probably was fatally injured and property damage of $100,000 done by a small cyclone which struck Marseilles, a village north of here, last night, according to reports reaching here today.

Telephone wires are down and only meagre reports are received. Practically every house in the village was damaged by the wind. Althouse was hit by a piece of flying tin.

Electrical Storm Causes Death And Much Destruction

Wheeling, W. Va., June 12.—Lightning struck the home of J. R. Bodley on the Moundsville camp grounds early today, burning it to the ground and seriously injuring Mrs. Bodley. The fire spread to 25 other cottages destroying them and causing a loss of $30,000.

Two men were killed during the storm. J. R. Manly of Watson, near Moundsville, was instantly killed when he came in contact with a live wire, and at Fulton, a suburb, an unidentified man was killed by lightning. The storm was one of the worst that has struck this section in years.

Spanish Convicts Kill Their Keeper

Cerbere, France, June 12.—A jail governor was assassinated and a number of convicts killed or wounded as the result of a revolt in the Spanish prison of Figueras just over the frontier line in Catalonia. The convicts took advantage of the absence of most of the prison guards whose attention had been attracted by a procession outside the jail in celebration of the religious festival of Corpus Christi.

CHICAGO BANK CLOSES DOORS

Chicago, June 12.—The La Salle Street Trust & Savings bank, of which William Lorimer, former United States senator, is president, was taken in charge today by the state bank examiner. The examiner said conditions were such as to warrant the closing of the bank.

No statement of what the closing of the bank actually means in dollars was made by the examiner. For the last three weeks, according to officials, there has been a mild run on the bank, and more than $1,000,000 on deposits have been withdrawn. Three other smaller banks dominated by men connected with the La Salle bank were closed, it was said, for their own protection.

Within half an hour 1500 depositors jammed the street, clamoring for admission. A man appeared at the twelfth floor of the building in which the bank is located and deliberately kicked out a large pane of glass. The glass fell on the crowd and a dozen persons were injured by the falling glass.

The deposits of the La Salle Street ank will total $4,648,050.

NEW CABINET OF FRANCE RESIGNS

Paris, France, June 12—The new French cabinet was defeated today in the first division taken in the new chamber of deputies by a vote of 306 to 262. Premier Ribot immediately resigned. He had held office but one day.

Defeated in the chamber of deputies just as he concluded the presentation of his policies, Alexandre Felix Ribot resigned this afternoon after being premier of France less than one week. Ribot's supporters proposed a vote of confidence as soon as he tested the course of his ministry would pursue on the three year army service bill. The vote of confidence was denied and Ribot immediately resigned.

Pittsburgh, Pa., June 12.—The refusal of the Westinghouse officials yesterday not to treat with their 10,000 strikers was answered today when the Allegheny Congenial union called out the 1,500 men at the plant of the Union Switch & Signal company at Swissville. The strike was scheduled for noon and a parade of East Pittsburgh strikers was formed at 9 o'clock to encourage the movement.

The most significant feature of the census figures is that of the 69, 61 were run in 1912, under review, at less cost per capita than the average head expense of the 195 under metropolitan heads.

ANCIENT ENEMIES PREPARING TO TEST STRENGTH IN BATTLE

Athens, Greece, June 12–A warning to Turkey which fell little short of a formal declaration of hostilities, was uttered by Premier Venizoles of Greece in the chamber of deputies. He was speaking on the treatment of Greek subjects in Turkey. The premier's attitude was taken because of the tension between Greece and Turkey was near the breaking point and that the danger of war was imminent.

M. Venizoles, who obviously found difficulty in restraining his language when he spoke in the way he did, said: "I do not wish to allow to escape me words which cannot be recalled, but I should fail in my duty if I did not inform the chamber of deputies that the situation has become grave, even very grave. If a stop is not put to these conditions the Hellenic forces will not content themselves with joining in the lamentations of unhappy refugees."

Both nations are purchasing war vessels and munitions and making other extensive war preparations.

London, Eng., June 12.—A dispatch from Mitylene, an island off the coast of Asia Minor, says that Turkish regulars with machine guns and a force of Bashi-Bazoolks today commenced an attack on the town of Aivlak, on the coast of the main land. As the town is inhabited by 25,000 Greeks a massacre is feared.

The threat of another Greece Turkish war did not come as a surprise to diplomats here. It was pointed out that events in the East during the recent months has been kindling the strongest animosity between the two nations.

Greece accuses Turkey of the expulsion with great cruelty of Greek subjects in the province of Thrace, while Turkey accuses Greece of oppressing former Turkish subjects in Salonika, which was taken by the Greeks in the recent Balkan war.

Jerome Is Opposed To Thaw's Release

Washington, June 12.—William Travers Jerome today filed a brief in the Supreme court for the State Bank of New York, opposing the application of Harry K. Thaw for release under bail pending hearing of the habeas corpus appeal. Jerome abandoned a plan to have Thaw withdraw his application and permit the slayer of Stanford White to go to Pittsburgh with a United States deputy marshal.

Trachoma Is Found In Children's Homes

Columbus, O., June 12.—Following discovery of two cases of trachoma, a dreaded eye disease, in the Pike county children's home, reports from other counties about the state will cause a thorough investigation of all institutions by the health board and blind commissions. The two Pike county children were brought here for treatment. Attention of the health board to this disease was called by Chairman H. H. Shirer, of the state board of charities and corrections, whose agents have been working in Southern Ohio.

Reports of sore eyes have also been received from the Ironton and Zanesville children's homes. One reason given for the spread of the disease is the use of the roller towel in these institutions.

This is another day for the display of patriotism. That's why I'm carryin' this flag and marchin' in the "Flag Day" parade. There's nothin' I enjoy more'n marchin' in a parade. Yes, since you've mentioned it, I cooled the weather off a bit so it would'nt be too hot t' march.

Here's the dope for Tomorrow:

Ohio—Unsettled tonight and probably showers; slightly cooler tonight in south portion; Saturday fair.

Kentucky—Thunder showers this afternoon and tonight; Saturday probably fair.

An ideal success from every standpoint was the annual picnic of the Holy Redeemer school held in Millbrook park, Thursday. When it is learned that 35 gallons of ice cream and 6 tubs of lemonade were consumed, there can be no doubt as to the success of the all-day [illegible].

How to Have Beautiful Hair

By JEAN CLAY

If your hair is not all that it should be, that is all the more reason why you should make it look its very best. Do not be discouraged if it is inclined to fade or turn gray, or it is thin, straggly, brittle, falling out or inclined to be dandruffy. Regular daily brushing, correct shampooing, and simple home care will do wonders if followed with persistence.

TO RESTORE GRAY HAIR—There's a reliable, safe and quick way to turn gray or faded hair back to its former color, which is not to be compared at all with the usual dyeing methods. All you need do is to get a few ounces of what druggists know as "sasatan solution" and apply a little of it with a sponge or piece of cotton. The hair should be moistened strand at a time, beginning at the crown and working down to the hair ends. Only a few such applications are necessary. It is really surprising how marvelously this simple sasatan solution acts, and it makes no difference whether your hair was formerly black, blonde, brown or what. While the transformation is so complete, it is not accomplished all at once, but so gradually, no one suspects you are using anything on your hair.

TO BANISH DANDRUFF COMPLETELY—Not only is dandruff a very unpleasant thing to see, but it is the most common cause of baldness and of premature grayness. Thorough brushing and combing are not sufficient to free yourself of this disagreeable affection. Divide the hair into small strands and moisten each parting with a little liquid arvon, rubbing this in gently with the finger-tips. You will find the arvon entirely dissolves and destroys the dandruff. If you will apply it nightly for only a few days the trouble will completely disappear. The annoying itching and digging stop at once. It is so sure and thorough, so quick-acting and harmless, I know you will appreciate the information, if you are at all bothered this way. Be sure to ask your druggist for "liquid arvon"—about four ounces will do.

A HYGIENIC SHAMPOO—The most delightful, refreshing and beneficial shampoo imaginable—if more people only knew it—is afforded by common cocoanut oil. The mulsified cocoanut oil is best for the purpose, as it lathers quite freely and it is also very inexpensive. If you will get about 50 cents' worth at your druggist's, you will have enough to last for months. It is only necessary to moisten the hair with water, apply a small quantity of the cocoanut oil (mulsified), and rub hair and scalp until a rich lather forms. The lather rinses out rapidly, leaving no stickiness or dandruff. It keeps the tresses beautifully soft, satiny and fluffy, and may be used as often as desired, as it won't make the hair dry and brittle. Only one or two teaspoonfuls are needed for a shampoo.

FOR FALLING HAIR—Nothing is more distressing to a woman than the knowledge that her hair is coming out in handfuls. Usually this terrible state of affairs is due to an anaemic condition. A stimulating tonic is needed to bring new blood to the hair roots. There's nothing quite so effective, or used more freely by the best hair experts as [illegible] compound [illegible] to be found in any drug store. A little of this should be applied at a time and rubbed thoroughly into the scalp. In severe cases, where really thin areas are found on the scalp, it may be advisable to use this compound, which is perfectly harmless, morning and evening, for awhile. I know of such a case where an abundant new growth of hair, after using but 4 ounces of [illegible] compound, amply repaid the user for her labors.

COLORED BOY TO EXPLAIN TO MAYOR

Philip Watts, a colored high school youth of this city, has been ordered to appear before Mayor Frick Saturday morning to explain his actions in the North End about midnight Thursday night, complaint of which was made by Captain McCarty and Officer Flowers. Watts was taken in custody by the police officers, but he begged so strongly for freedom in order that he could participate in the "Flag Day" parade Friday morning that he was allowed to go upon his promise to report at the mayor's office Saturday morning.

According to the complaint registered by Captain McCarty, young Watts conducted himself in a very unbecoming manner in the vicinity of the brick plant near Seventeenth and Chillicothe streets late Thursday night, hurling remarks at people who were passing by and otherwise making himself a general nuisance. He gave three assumed names to the officers before he finally admitted his true identity.

When searched, Watts had in his possession a vial of chloroform and another vial containing some liquid, the nature of which is not known to the officers. He claimed that he used the contents of the vials to protect himself from vicious dogs, but the mayor will make a thorough investigation of what he was doing with the drugs. Watts performs odd jobs about one of the leading drug stores in the city, and it is supposed that he secured the contents of the vials there. He is a son of James Watts, and lives at 1101 Twelfth street.

Out Again, In Again, Windle

Walter Windle, a young painter of this city, who was released from the city prison Thursday morning by Mayor Frick, did not enjoy his liberty long, for he was back in jail before nightfall on a charge of disorderly conduct, preferred by his employer, C. W. Hills and of the firm of Hills and Foster.

Windle, according to Hills, became under the influence of liquor soon after his release Thursday morning, and while in that condition, came to him and demanded the money that was due him. As the regular pay day of the firm is on Saturday of each week, Mr. Hills refused to grant his request, whereupon Windle threatened to do him bodily harm, so Hills claims.

Report of his actions was made to the police by Mr. Hills, and Windle was placed under arrest and lodged in the city prison. He was adjudged guilty of the charge Friday morning, and fined $10 by the mayor. Windle secured his release by the payment of $5 and an order on his employer for the balance of the fine.

B. & O. BRIDGE BURNS 'NEATH PASSENGER TRAIN

Many lives were imperiled in a near wreck when B. & O. S.-W. accommodation train No. 51 ran onto a burning bridge just east of Slocum, 9 miles from Portsmouth, Friday morning.

The engine of the train got across the one span bridge safely but when the baggage car came upon it the rails buckled, throwing the front trucks on the ties. The car caught fire and the greatest excitement prevailed for a few minutes. The baggage car was uncoupled from the other coaches and once the bucket brigade that was hastily formed succeeded in extinguishing the flames the baggage car was dragged across the ties to the other side. Passengers were loaded into the baggage car and brought on through to Portsmouth arriving here at 12:30 (noon.)

It is not known how the bridge which is constructed of timber caught fire. The discovery was not made until the train had rounded the sharp curve and ran partly across the bridge. Fireman Walter Brown, Alvin McGinnis, an express messenger and John Greshel, the B. & O. S.-W. agent at Scioto Furnace, jumped from the train and led the fire fighting. Engineer John Cadden stuck to his post. The company rushed a force of men to the scene from here to repair the track on the bridge and later the coaches were brought on through to Portsmouth.

2 LOCAL BOYS BEING HELD AT MAYSVILLE

Captain McCarty, of the local police department, received a telephone message Thursday night from Maysville, Ky., authorities, in which he was informed that they are holding on suspicion in that city Louis and Carl Jones, two young men who gave their residence as Portsmouth. The boys were arrested with a large quantity of brass in their possession, which they were endeavoring to dispose of. They will be held there until an investigation can be made.

INJURIES CAME FAST

Frank Kurtz, a laborer, employed on the towpath job, thought his time had come Thursday, he experiencing two accidents within a few hours of each other.

Kurtz was assisting in making a derrick lift, when the hooks pulled out and a cement box loaded with gravel fell on his left foot, badly mashing it. It was while returning to the city in Contractor George White's buggy with an old man, whose name was not learned, that the second mishap occurred. The horse frightened at a passing automobile and plunged over the lower river road wall. Both men were thrown out and Kurtz, limping about on one foot, had to lift the buggy from off the other man. Assistance came and Kurtz was removed to the West End hotel, where he is now under a physician's care.

FILES SUIT IN PARTITION

George W. Allen against Elizabeth Benzo and others, is the title of a partition suit filed Friday morning in the court of common pleas by Attorney N. B. Gilliland, representing the plaintiff. Seven defendants are named in the petition, all of whom, together with the plaintiff, are children and joint heirs of Hannah H. Allen, deceased, late of Madison township.

In the petition, the plaintiff avers that he is seized in fee simple with an undivided one-eighth part of a tract of land in Madison township, covering ten acres, and that each of the seven defendants are equal owners with him. He alleges, however, that one of them, Alva E. Allen, who has been in possession of the land for the past year, has not accounted for the profits and rentals derived from the property, the aggregate amount of which will not exceed $50.

Wherefore, he asks the court to set of his share to him in severalty, and if this can not be done without manifest injury to the property, to order it sold and the proceeds divided equally among the heirs.

Still Undecided As To C. & O. Route

The C. & O. railway up to Friday was still considering and surveying three different sites and routes for its proposed bridge across the Ohio river and line to Columbus.

The company is surveying a route up Munn's Run that goes directly through the Selby cottage and would require the construction of a tunnel 2,000 feet long; also one up Mabert road or Brewery Hollow, and a third up Lawson's Run, across the hilltop district through the Cole boulevard to the Two-Mile hill.

That the company has not yet definitely decided upon any particular route is known to be certain. Those entrusted with this responsibility are carefully investigating and weighing the advantages of the various routes and will not pick upon any until thoroughly convinced that it is the best. They feel that if once they select a route and have the road started over it and it then developed that one of the others was better that they would never be forgiven or forgive themselves.

full investigation of the charges in his court, he announced that he would willingly preside at the hearing.

A special venire of twenty names will be drawn from the jury wheel at the court house some time Saturday, from which list twelve will be chosen to hear the case, which was assigned for hearing Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock.

Adams and the Morris woman, it will be remembered, were caught in a raid on the latter's home on Eleventh street late late Tuesday night, and brought to police station. They secured their release the following morning on bond. Adams claims that he is a boarder at the woman's house, and says he will have no difficulty in proving his innocence. He further claims that the arrest is another step taken by his wife to persecute him, she having had him arrested once before on a similar charge, which never came to trial. Adams, however, spent 86 days in the county jail at that time.

WIFE BEATER GIVEN A FINE

John Hale, of Sixth and Broadway streets, was assessed a fine of $10 by Mayor Frick Friday morning after having been found guilty of the charge of wife-beating. In default of payment, he was committed to jail. His wife attempted to shield him at the hearing, but the testimony of Mrs. Rosa White and Mrs. Anna Webb, neighbors, brought about his conviction.

The police were called to the Hale home early Thursday evening, his young daughter having called over the phone for officers to come there to protect her mother. It was brought out during the hearing that Hale was under the influence of liquor at the time the assault was made. His wife was [illegible]

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Dolly Wise.—Is one person allowed to ask as many questions as wanted in one writing?

WANT TO KNOW.

One can send in as many questions as they want to, but hereafter write each question on a separate sheet of paper and write only on one side of the paper, if possible. This will save me the trouble of copying each question off on a separate sheet of paper.

Dear Miss Wise.—Will you kindly tell me if it is proper to kiss a boy good night that you are engaged to?

GREENIE.

I suppose it is. If you are engaged, I hope it is to a man, and not a boy.

Dear Miss Wise.—What is a pretty name for a girl baby?

YOUNG MOTHER.

Pauline, Alice, Ethel, Mary, Louise, Sarah, Frances, Rose, Eleanor, Grace, Martha, Ragina, Ruth, Jean, Julianna, Helen, Edna, Rosemary, Janet, etc.

Buena Vista, O., June 11.—Dear Miss Wise.—I am a young fellow and am looking for a girl. I thought you might help me out. There is one girl down here that I would like to go with. We went to school together and I have tried to be friendly. I am pretty good looking and she is a beauty. I am very lonesome and like to have company. Do your best to help me. I have a good deal of money. I have no bad habits. All of my nearest relatives have plenty. I always go to Sunday school and church.

LONESOME BABE.

Why don't you go after the Buena Vista beauty, Babe. I am sure you can win her if you only half try. It's a wonder some girl down there hasn't landed you long ago.

Dear Miss Wise.—Is it necessary to send a present when receiving an invitation to a church wedding out of the city?

DAILY READER.

Unless you are an intimate friend of the family or one of the contracting parties, it is not binding upon you to give a wedding present, if you are invited to the church, and not to the reception following the ceremony.

Dear Miss Wise.—Which do you think is the best, yellow or plain glass for goggles?

AUTOIST.

Yellow glass takes away the glare from the roads, although altering the color of the foliage to some extent.

Dear iMss Wise. I am a young man 25 years of age. Do you think I am old enough to marry?

JOHN.

Yes, if you can find the right girl and can support her.

Dear Miss Wise.—I am about to open a rooming house and will allow some light housekeeping. Please inform me what you think light housekeeping with kitchen privileges means. I feel that roomers should help keep the kitchen, also the bath room, hall and parlor clean when they entertain and use them as much as I do. Should they not also wash their own towels and take care of their rooms?

SUBSCRIBER.

Rules governing what is popularly known as light housekeeping, vary so much in different places that I cannot lay down hard and fast laws for your direction. I think, however, that the stipulations relative to the care of the bedrooms, clearing up the kitchen after using it for cooking, and setting the parlor in order after entertainments, etc., would be the same everywhere.

Dear Miss Wise—I am a girl 18 and have been keeping company with a boy of the same age. Are we too young to marry?

BLONDIE KID.

Yes. A man can't get a license until he is 21 without his parents' consent. Better wait a few years.

Dear Miss Wise.—Please tell me how to clean a blue serge suit.

LOVE TO KNOW.

Sponge it with blueing water and press on wrong side with hot iron. If there are any spots on it, you can take them off with gasoline before you start to press it.

Dear Miss Wise—I have a sister 14 years of age. How does girls of her age wear their hair?

SCHOOL GIRL.

This hot weather it would be all right to wear it pinned up on her head while around home. When she dresses up she could wear it in one or two braids and tied with a ribbon bow.

Dear Dolly—I am a young girl of 18, and would like to get acquainted with some nice young man. Would you kindly give me your advise. Is my writing and spelling good?

LONELY BESS.

You have plenty of time to get acquainted with young men. Before you are old enough to marry no doubt you will have met lots of them.

Dear Dolly.—After corresponding with a young man in another city for some time, I have quit writing for just a slight reason and as he now wants me to start writing again, I come to you for advice. He is coming home soon and it will be very embarrassing not to be on good terms with him.

HASTY GIRL.

If he has written you answer his letter by all means, if you care to. If not, you might act as though nothing had ever happened when he comes home.

Dear Dolly.—I am one of this year's sweet girl graduates and I received quite a number of presents. Will you please tell me what I should say when I thank them. I received some from out of town and will have to answer these by letter. What kind of stationery should I use, letter paper or correspondence cards?

SWEET GIRL GRAD.

Any kind of stationery you prefer. The styles change so rapidly that there is always something new, but a sheet of note paper that folds once is always correct. You might say "it was so kind of you to remember me at this time. It is always pleasant to know one has friends", or something to that effect.

Worried Kid—Don't try to get him back. You are too young to have a beau.

CAPT. CHEAPE, STAR BRITISH POLO PLAYER, IN ACTION

CAPTAIN CHEAPE AT THE RIGHT

Capt. Leslie St. C. Cheape, the star of the British polo team, which will try to take the championship cup back to Great Britain, came near not playing in the games. The injury he sustained when, during practice at Meadow Brook, Long Island, the scene of the international contest, a ball struck him on the nose, was very painful. It was feared for a time that his nose was broken and that one eye was badly injured. However, a later examination proved the only injury was a displacement of the cartilage of the nose. The American Polo Association, realizing the harm done the British team by the injury of the star player, postponed the first game for several days till he could recover.

Capt. Cheape is strong in action, but his success is rather in his scientific play rather than in his force. It is very likely that had he not consented to come to the United States as a member of the team there would have been no international match this year. The hopes of the Britons waiting for the result of the match centre on him.

FALL IMPAIRS BOY'S MIND

A pathetic case was presented at the office of Probate Judge Beatty Friday afternoon, when Chester [illegible] seven-year-old son of Mrs. [illegible] Hammond, of New Boston, was brought in on an affidavit setting forth that the lad was feebleminded. During the examination, it was brought out that the lad, an [illegible] bright appearing youngster, was normal mentally, until he reached the age of two years, about which time he fell on a sharp instrument, sustaining a deep cut in the forehead. Since that time he has been unable to remember anything that happens to him, and is unable to receive instruction in the public schools on that account.

Judge Beatty interested himself in the case, and will endeavor to have the boy committed to a state institution for treatment. He is confident that an operation will remove the source of the trouble, and that the little fellow will be restored to a normal mental condition.

Clifton Dr. Timme, head of a [illegible] in Hershesberg, admitted killing his wife, who had suffered from incurable cancer, and who had begged him for weeks to end her misery. Dr. Timme attempted suicide. If he recovers he will be tried for the result of the match centre on him.

Pres. Stevens Talks About Improvement

Cincinnati, O., June 12.—Geo. W. Stevens, president of the Chesapeake & Ohio, was in the city yesterday with his staff of railroad experts, on an annual inspection of the lines of the system. Mr. Stevens, after greeting all the local officials of the company, left last night for Columbus where he will confer with M. J. Caples, vice president-in-charge of construction, about the location and other problems presented by the proposed Chesapeake & Ohio Northern which will run from opposite Portsmouth up the Scioto valley to Columbus.

Mr. Stevens, commenting upon this line, told of the immense relief that would be felt by the congested yards and tracks here at Cincinnati when the "Lake coal" would no longer have to pass through this gateway, but would be sent direct through to Columbus. "But even at that," he said, "we will have all the traffic that we will want to handle over this span. We have computed that at a conservative estimate our coal traffic will increase 50 per cent in the next five years. Our chief concern is how we shall take care of our tremendously increasing business.

"The approaches to the bridge here will have to be renewed soon and we are considering that problem now, but the large main spans are good for years to come. Wednesday the amount of traffic over the structure broke all previous records. I am told that almost 3,000 cars were hauled from Kentucky to Ohio and vice versa."

Defendant Files Strong Answer

Attorneys Milner, Miller and Searl, representing the Samuel Harchow Furniture company of this city, filed an answer Friday to the suit for $180.25, filed recently in the common pleas court of this county by the Drexel Furniture company of Drexel, N. C. In the answer the defendant company denies every allegation contained in the petition of the plaintiff and asks for judgment from the Drexel company in the sum of $29.11 for freight and storage.

The Harchow company claims that it ordered a shipment of dressers for the holiday trade last year, but that instead, the shipment did not arrive until January 23, 1914, too late for the holiday season. The company further alleges that instead of the dressers being of solid oak, as represented by the Drexel agent, they were of imitation quarter-sawed oak, of inferior quality and not up to specifications. For all of which reasons, the company states that it is holding the dressers in storage subject to the order of the plaintiff company.

WINDOWS ARE BEAUTIES

Ernest P. Kelley, popular clerk at the Hans clothing store, Fifth and Chillicothe streets, is receiving many compliments concerning his ability as a window trimmer. The ones he completed Friday show that Kelley, as he is always called by his friends, is quite an artist. The effect produced is very "summery" indeed and a glance at the well balanced windows is as good for the turridity almost as a plunge in the ocean. Kelley has shown men's wearing apparel to their best possible advantage. The mohair and palm beach suits, the Panama hats, silk shirts, silk hosiery tell one that summer is indeed here in all its fierceness. The color scheme was happily solved by Mr. Kelley in the use of beautifully colored neckwear. Kelley is away out yander as a window dresser.

"BILLY BUTT IN" — BILLY AT LAST DISCOVERS A WAY TO KEEP COOL

Sir Thomas Lipton and Designer of Shamrock IV

This photograph of Sir Thomas Lipton and Charles E. Nicholson, designer, of Shamrock IV, with which the tea merchant hopes to lift the America's Cup, was taken very recently aboard Sir Thomas's yacht Erin. Mr. Nicholson will come to the United States with the yacht and will sail on her in the races off Sandy Hook.

Mr. Nicholson has designed many fast small yachts now sailing in European waters. One of the fast, perhaps the fastest schooner yacht in Europe, the Margharita, was produced by him. He is a partner with his brothers in the firm of Campbell & Nicholson, of Gosport, England, where the Shamrock IV was built.

He is a broad enough man, it is said in England, to be willing to accept suggestions concerning the yachts he has designed from others. Nor does he try to take as his own ideas he gets from others. The present tendency of keeping the canvas of modern yachts well in board and lofty brought up the question of rigging to stay satisfactorily the tall mast, and when the so-called Marconi system, used on the Istria, Sir Charles C. Allom's successful 15-metre cutter, was suggested to Mr. Nicholson he considered it carefully and adopted it.

WILD WOMEN BURN CHURCH

Demands for the drastic punishment of the women engaged in this destruction are heard on every side. The leniency of the government in releasing the women after a few days' detention in jail is generally condemned.

Trouble In Italy Settled At Altar

After a series of exciting adventures which begun last Sunday and in which the police played a prominent part, Silvia Pattoni and Miss Nzitirina Bidueli, a local Italian couple, were married early Thursday evening at the office of Mayor Frick, His Honor pronouncing the words that made them one. Their marriage followed soon after their arrest by the police late Thursday afternoon on a charge of stealing $250 from the wife's father, an N. & W. track walker, living at Eleventh and Railroad streets.

The father relented after the ceremony had been performed, withdrew the charges against them, and agreed to set them up in housekeeping in a cozy little home of their own. The trio left Mayor Frick's office in a happy frame of mind.

Times readers will remember that on last Sunday afternoon, Silvio and his companion, Pasan inelli Bennnion, were arrested by the police at the request of the girl's father, who preferred a serious charge against them in police court. When the time came to prosecute them the following morning the father learned from his daughter's own lips the story of her dishonor, she having confessed that she has been unduly intimate with her young lover for several months prior to that time.

Reports have reached the police during the week that young Silvio has continually visited the vicinity of the girl's home, and against the wishes of her father had pressed an ardent courtship under discouraging odds, the father refusing to let him come any nearer the house than the middle of the street. The girl, however, welcomed the visits of her ardent wooer, and plainly showed her deep affection for him to the discomfiture of an enraged father.

Friday afternoon, the father called upon Mayor Frick at his office and informed him that he had been robbed of $250. At his request, the young man and the girl were arrested on suspicion and brought before the mayor. After a short questioning, the girl admitted that she had taken the money and concealed it in the bottom of her trunk. She agreed to return to the house and return the money.

While they were pondering what to do, the mayor suggested that inasmuch as the young couple appeared to be so fond of each other, the proper way out of the trouble was to let them get married. This struck a responsive chord in the hearts of the youthful lovers, and finally the girl's father consented to the plan.

Detective James Bauers, of the N. & W. accompanied the pair to Probate Judge Beatty's office where a license was secured. They returned to the mayor's office and were united in marriage, the second ceremony that Mayor Frick has performed since he assumed his office as mayor.

Cooler Today

A peep at Weather Observer Dr. Harry Schirrmann's official thermometer Friday showed that the maximum reading was 96 against 97 on Thursday. There was far less humidity in the atmosphere today, which is responsible for the general impression that Friday was not nearly so warm as Thursday. The air was more rarified today and a fine breeze tempered Old Sol's rays.

New York.—After testifying that her husband was intoxicated, tried to hang beef steaks on the ceiling and often threw crockery at her, Mrs. Wm. C. Winship was granted a separation and $11 a week alimony.

ROBBERS TEAR PURSE FROM THE GRASP OF AGED WOMAN

Two unknown sneak thieves snatched a handbag from Mrs. Mary Rath, of Lexington, Ky., near the alley on Eighth street between Gay and Findlay streets about 8:30 o'clock Thursday evening, making good their escape up the dark alley. The purse was snatched with such force as to rip it loose from its handle, to which the owner hung so tenaciously that it was left in her hand after the thieves had accomplished their purpose.

In the bag was a purse containing $3.75 in cash, a gold breast pin, a pair of gloves, and other minor articles of more or less value. Mrs. Rath immediately reported her loss to the police, and officers were detailed to investigate. No one was found who answered the description of the two men at that time, but later, about midnight two young men from Otway, Oscar Hudson and Henry Frashie, were taken in tow by Captain McCarty and Officer Flowers near the brick plant in the North End.

At the time of their arrest, they were not under suspicion of being connected with the robbery, but a later investigation showed that they were in the vicinity of the place when it occurred, and as they were not able to give a satisfactory account of themselves, they were held pending a further investigation. They are now in the city prison, awaiting examination by the mayor.

Mrs. Rath, who is in Portsmouth on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Caroline Elberfeld, of 603 Eighth street, had spent the early part of the evening at the home of a lady friend in the North End, and was returning home on Eighth street when she was accosted by the strangers. She says that she noticed the two men loitering about behind her, but never dreamed that they had any intention of robbing her. Just as she was about to step up on the curb at the west side of the alley running between Gay and Findlay streets, she felt something pulling at her left hand in which she held her purse. Looking around, suddenly, she saw one of the men give the handbag a sharp jerk, tearing it from the handle which she held in her hand. After tearing it loose, the men darted up the dark alley and made good their escape.

Hudson and Frashie were arrested along with two negroes, who were suspected of having attempted to rob another negro near Seventeenth and Chillicothe streets shortly before midnight Thursday night. They were held merely as witnesses, but their actions were so strange during the examination before Mayor Frick Friday morning that the mayor ordered them held for further investigation.

Hudson refused to testify when requested by the mayor unless he was guaranteed witness fees in advance. It developed during the examination that they arrived in Portsmouth from Otway on the early N. & W. train Friday evening, and spent the time between their arrival and their arrest loitering about in the North End.

Caught A Big Cat

That some mighty big catfish make their home in the Ohio river was evidenced Friday morning when John Sturgis hauled out a channel cat that weighed 49 pounds when weighed. The fish was caught just below Beatlyville. Sturgis brought the fine specimen to town Friday and sold it to a local restaurant proprietor.

Will Install Officers

At the next meeting of the American Insurance Union, to be held on Thursday, June 15, the annual installation of officers will be held. During the summer months this lodge will meet the first and third Thursdays of each month.

New York—When Frank Wolf entered his restaurant to begin the day's business he found eight young chickens running around the bottom of an egg crate. The crate had lain behind the cooking stove for some time.

Columbus, June 12.—The primary entries close today with practically all of the political entrants formally in the running excepting Charles L. Swain, speaker of the Ohio house of representatives who retires from the Democratic United States senatorial race in the eleventh hour and leaves four instead of five in that particular test of speed. There was some excitement yesterday when it was found that the candidacy of John J. Whitacre of Canton for the Democratic nomination for governor was jeopardized by an error in his certificate of acceptance. But Mr. Whitacre was apprised of the error by wire and corrected it. In the same manner. The mistake was Mr. Whitacre's omission to declare that he would stand by the platform of his party if successful. This is a requirement of the new law and had not the secretary of state taken the trouble to notify the Democratic gubernatorial aspirant by wire, dire results might have ensued, possibly the ruling of the candidate out of the race. Wherefore the Whitacre supporters are filled with a friendly feeling toward the secretary of state's department. Anyway this only emphasizes the fact that there can be no more weighing in for the primary contest after midnight tonight. Technically the time limit for state candidates was up last night but owing to the uncertainty and misapprehension that exists, the secretary of state has ruled that he will not reject any petition which may be filed any time today or tonight.

After Governor Cox, Attorney General Hogan claims the honor of filing the greatest number of names to be found attached to a Democratic primary petition. Mr. Hogan yesterday filed something more than 30,000 names and declared that they all had been secured by unpaid workers. Postage was his only item of expense in preparing for the primary contest, the attorney general declared. It will be impossible for some days to determine just how many some of the candidates filed since their petitions are scattered among the boards of elections of the various counties and will not be in the office of the secretary of state for several days.

Paul Gottschling, a penitentiary prisoner, has been pardoned under tantalizing circumstances and already on his way back to Austria. The conditions of the pardon were that Gottschling be deported to answer in his native country to a charge of murder. Originally Gottschling was "sent up" for burglary from Lorain county, and the fact that he was wanted in Austria for murder probably never would have been revealed had not the prisoner himself in a moment of vain glorious boasting himself confided it to fellow prisoners.

The big safe in the state treasury vault is to be replaced by a smaller one. This change may seem strange in view of the fact that this commonwealth has more money now than ever before, and the natural notion would be that instead of getting a smaller safe that it would be necessary to get a larger one. A big safe is not needed now because very little money is kept in it. As rapidly as the money comes in it is sent out to banks in the various parts of the state that pay interest to the state for its use. "We have close to $10,000,000 to the credit of the state, and of this sum we only keep a little more than $10,000 in the safe," said Treasurer John P. Brennan. "This small amount is kept for our daily needs. Just before pay day we draw in the neighborhood of $40,000 from our active depositories and disburse it in salaries in one day."

Treasurer Brennan says that a safe one-third the size of the present safe, which was installed during the Cameron administration from 1900 to 1904, would be sufficient for present needs. At that time larger sums were kept on deposit than now, and so a larger safe was needed. Treasurer Brennan was allowed an appropriation of $2500 by the general assembly for a new safe, and he has contracted to get one for $1600. It will contain compartments for the filing of bonds. The old safe will be sold. It is in fine condition and probably will bring a good figure. In the bookkeeping room at the treasury stands an old safe which was used by the state a quarter of a century and more ago. It would be easy for a cracksmen to open this safe nowadays. In the days when this safe was used the state was always more or less bankrupt and so if it had been raided little loot would have been obtained.

Ohio is fast becoming one of the leading automobile states of the Union. The 100,000 mark in the number of automobile licenses issued by the state has been passed. Early in the year State Registrar J. A. Shearer gave it as his opinion that the total number for this year would be a little in excess of 110,000. He is revising his estimate. He thinks that the number will go beyond 125,000. Last year the total was 86,156. Ohio people seem to have money enough for automobiles.

The district examiners of steam engineers of the state are in session here formulating the questions to be used in examinations of applicants for engineers' licenses during the next quarter. The questions are changed quarterly. Otto M. Elzemann of Cincinnati, is chief of the examiners.

A large crowd took in the boat excursion given by the Rebel base ball club on the steamer Peerless Thursday night.

FLAG DAY PARADE WAS A BRILLIANT SUCCESS

3,500 Pupils March Through Lines Of Admiring Citizens

Patriotism as it is inculcated into the minds of the pupils of Portsmouth's public schools, was exemplified in concrete form Friday morning when Flag Day was fittingly observed with a magnificent parade in which 3,500 school children took part and which served as an impressive climax to an eminently successful school year.

The spectacle of 3,500 pupils with flags, best clothes and wreathed in their happiest smiles was a most imposing and picturesque one as the school youth of the city marched through the streets. No more inspiring parade is ever staged than the one in which thousands of school children take part on Flag Day.

With fluttering hearts, waving flags and radiant with joy "the hope of our country" as speakers are wont to call the school youth of America unfolded a colorful panorama before the eyes of admiring throngs.

Formed In Front Of the High School

Forming in line in front of the High School building, the parade moved sharply at 9 o'clock. Headed by the River City band which played patriotic airs it moved between thousands of people who lined both sides of Gallia street to view the pageant, and as it increased in size and its real beauty was slowly unfolded the scene was a grand one.

Immediately following the band came the primary grade pupils of all the rooms in the various school buildings. The honor of leading the parade went to the pupils of Miss Merle Little's primary grade in the Lower Fourth street building. Carrying strands of bunting and waving flags the smiling little girls and boys were heartily applauded all along the line of march.

Just ahead of this brigade marched eight members of Bailey Post, G. A. R., veterans of the Civil War.

Teachers Walked With Their Pupils

Each teacher walked alongside of her scholars and gayly flaunted a flag, which waved in unison with those of the gallant marchers. Here and there a drum thrummed and the shrill note of the fife was heard.

Parade End Of School Year

The line of march was down Gallia street from the high school building to Chillicothe street, thence to Fourth street, east on this street to North Waller and then to the High School building, where the teachers said goodbye to their pupils. The disbandment of the parade was the last official act of the school year.

In the parade there were 900 children from the first grade, 550 from the second, 7[illegible] from the third, [illegible] from the fourth, 500 from the fifth, 400 from the sixth, 300 from the seventh, 200 from the eighth and 150 from the High School.

As the parade swung into Chillicothe street from Gallia and the River City band struck up an inspiring and sprightly melody, hearts leaped high, hands instinctively came together and a wave of applause fairly engulfed the thousands of marchers. It was a scene long to be remembered, one that was indelibly impressed upon the minds of those so fortunate to witness it.

Supt. Appel Is Pleased

"Despite the intense heat I really believe that the number of pupils who failed to report for the parade was less than 100. You can't imagine how they looked forward to it," said Supt. Frank Appel, immediately after the pageant. And his face beamed with satisfaction. It was a glorious ending of the school year. The 1914 Flag Day parade will always be recalled as one of the most successful ever arranged by Supt. Appel and his scholars. Hats are off to the school children of Portsmouth. They are nothing if not patriotic.

PIKE COUNTY MAN BEATEN BY HOBOES

How a Pike county citizen came to grief when he visited Portsmouth, is told in the Waverly Watchman, which says:

"William Powell, of Given Station, was in Portsmouth the forepart of this week and missed No. 15. In order to get home that night young Powell hopped an N. & W. freight train and unfortunately got in a box car in which was a gang of negro toughs.

"After leaving Portsmouth and when near Davis Station the negroes assaulted Powell, striking him over the head with a heavy stick of timber, rendering him unconscious. While in this shape they relieved him of $18 in cash, but left his watch and other valuable papers.

"When Powell came to his assailants had disappeared, and nothing could be done. Dr. McCann of this city treated the young man's wounds, putting several stitches in a cut on his head. The back of his right hand was badly lacerated also."

107 Cadets Graduate From West Point

West Point, N. Y., June 12.—One hundred and seven cadets were graduated at the United States military academy today. The address of the day was delivered by Lindley M. Garrison, secretary of war, who paid high tribute to the conduct of the army in the recent crisis. He referred particularly to the avoidance of trouble on the Mexican border where for 1200 miles officers and men were doing "a duty as difficult to do well as any that can be given to men to do."

"Across the border," he said, "antagonists in arms were constantly clashing in sight and shot-distance of our men. Friends and supporters of the respective sides were constantly seeking to use our territory as means of refitting or outfitting hostile expeditions.

"Fierce passions were aroused on both sides of the line.

"The discipline of character—the self restraint of training and the ability and intelligence of our men—met every emergency and passed through every test with an unblemished record."

RESISTENCE IS COSTLY FOR HUGHES

Offering resistance to a police officer in the discharge of his duties proved to be a costly experiment for James Hughes, an East End resident, Thursday night. Besides suffering a painful wound in the head, Hughes drew a fine of $10 in Mayor Frick's court Friday morning, and in default of payment of fine, was remanded to jail.

Hughes loaded up on booze down town during the evening, and returned to the East End about midnight to sleep off the effects of his jag in an open stairway near Campbell avenue. Officer Campbell interrupted his quiet snooze, which provoked Hughes to make an assault upon him. Campbell quieted him with a well directed blow with his club, and then brought him to the station, where he was locked up.

NEGROES FINED ANYWAY

Two strange negroes, Walter Drown and James Clowney, were arrested along the railroad tracks in the North End about midnight Thursday night by Captain McCarty and Officer Flowers on suspicion of having attempted to rob Charles Wilson, another negro, earlier in the evening. Flowers had received a report of the robbery, and as the men answered the description given him, he placed them under arrest.

Wilson, however, stated positively in police court Friday morning that the two suspects were not the men who tried to hold him up along the railroad tracks just south of the Hempstead hospital. The mayor, however, held that they were guilty of disorderly conduct, and fined them $10 each.

F. N. SCHANLEY IS EMPLOYED BY SYNDICATE

The Upshur Record, published at Buckhannon, W. Va., in its issue of June 9th, tells of the activities in that section of F. N. Schanley, former Portsmouth resident, but now located in Cincinnati.

The Record says that Mr. Schanley has been in Buckhannon and Upshur counties securing rights of way for a syndicate that is planning to build a trolley line from Weston to Philippi, via Buckhannon, connecting at Philippi with a line the Fairmont Traction Co. will build from Clarksburg, W. Va.

Mr. Schanley reported little difficulty in securing right of way and he thinks the road will undoubtedly be built. Schanley's many friends here will be glad to learn he is getting along nicely.

There will be an examination held at the Safety Director's office for chauffeurs, repairmen, salesmen, and demonstrators Tuesday, June 16, 1914, commencing at 9 o'clock a. m.

OVERHEAD CROSSING MOST FAVORED AT CONFERENCE, CITIZENS ENTER COMPLAINT

N. & W. AND ST. RAILWAY PLAN IMPROVEMENTS

A conference that is expected to result in the recommendation that an overhead crossing to extend from Young street to Eighth street be built as a substitute for the Kendall avenue subway was held by representatives of the city council, board of trade, N. & W. railway and street railway Friday morning.

The conference and inspection tour developed much in the way of the N. & W.'s extensive plans as well as throwing light upon certain phases of the proposed project not generally known and while little was accomplished in a direct way the conference had the effect of bringing all of the parties interested to a better understanding of the situation.

N. & W. Against Subway Plan

One thing that stood out prominently was the positive declaration of the representatives of the N. & W. railway that that company would never build the Kendall avenue subway and if the proposed overhead crossing falls through it will build its proposed yard extensions elsewhere. Another interesting development was that while Levi D. York, president of the street railway company, personally regarded the subway plan as the best that if it was determined the overhead crossing was the best for all concerned he would gladly assist in its construction.

Citizens Against Plan

Stern opposition on the part of Earlytown property owners particularly those of Eighth street above the viaduct was forcibly impressed upon the inspection party by Alonzo Rickey, Joseph Fields, Fred Wessel and others, they threatening to enjoin any attempt to vacate Kendall avenue or the building of an overhead crossing on the west side of Lawson's Run.

The crossing proposition was discussed from every angle and point of view. The differences between the N. & W. and street railway were reviewed and there were frequent verbal clashes, the steam railroad officials blaming the street railway for the repeated delays and vice versa. Leslie F. Turley, of the board of trade committee appointed to confer with the others, did much toward appeasing the contending sides at least bringing them to a basis of "getting together." He laid stress upon the fact that there should be square dealing all around, feeling satisfied that if each saw that it was to derive benefits that there should be little trouble arriving at some amicable solution. The city he felt would be benefited through the street railway connecting up its belt line and he felt that inasmuch as the building of the overhead crossing would relieve the N. & W. of quite an enormous expenditure sure to be incurred in the building of a subway, a saving he wanted the railway to make, that that corporation should be willing to make certain concessions. He desired that the N. & W. be given every opportunity to increase its facilities.

Attorney Arthur H. Bannon took the position that the steam railway company was out of it and not to be considered as the law plainly provides such crossings shall be built by cities and steam railroads, granting though that if the street railway used the crossing then under the law the city shall fix the percentage of the cost it must assume of the city's proportion.

Street Railway Vitally Interested

Mr. Turley on the other hand insisted that the street railway company was very much in it, that it had for years been deprived of the opportunity of connecting up its belt line, etc., and it was but fair that its interests should be reckoned with. Mr. Bannon resented the intimation that the N. & W. had been responsible for the delay in building the subway. It was not expected to build the subway until last year and then there developed an unforeseen increase in business that forever eliminated the subway and where then the company was handling 600 cars daily it is now handling 2,030. He charged that the street railway company had no right to issue any bonds for the project and also that its officials never signed any contract to which Mr. York replied that nothing had ever been presented to him to sign. He claimed his company had made every preparation to do its part with the building of the subway.

Overhead Crossing The Best Plan

Mr. Turley led the discussion back to the advantages of overhead crossings pointing out that in New York, Philadelphia and other cities subways were to be found in the down town districts but in the outskirts and suburbs overhead crossings predominated. The one at Young street it was shown could be built at considerable less sum than the Kendall avenue subway and according to Division Engineer C. F. Losh be finished this summer.

Improvement Cost Large Sum

The estimated cost of the Kendall avenue subway short plan is $119,000 while with the 23 additional tracks it is proposed to lay it would be [illegible] in excess of that sum. The plans provide for a 20 ft. roadway and a footbridge over the top of the tracks. The city's share of the cost is $11,640 and in no event is the city to pay [illegible] proportionately less at a reduced cost.

The [illegible] overhead crossing would [illegible] the properties [illegible] at Nos. [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] street but would not disturb the [illegible] of [illegible] Eighth [illegible] street. The street railway company would have to [illegible] north of Gallia [illegible] to Vinton avenue. The N. & W. would have [illegible] [illegible]

N. & W. Officials Will Foot the Bill

The N. & W. officials contend that Kendall avenue is not a public thoroughfare, though admitting it will have to get the city's permission to lay the additional tracks. They are willing that the matter of damages come in their natural course, realizing that in lieu of the permission to cross it, will have to pay the consequent damages. "We want the city to do the legislating and we will foot the bill," said Mr. Bannon, adding later that Mr. York and the street railway company likewise can present their claims for damages along with the rest.

Declare Damages Will Reach $200,000

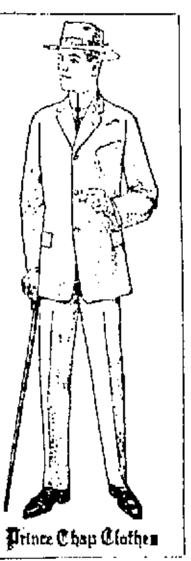

It was judged from the attitude of Earlytown property owners that the damage claims will total $200,000 if Kendall avenue is vacated—an item all agreed was not to be overlooked. The proposed overhead crossing will place Earlytown properties in a pocket and reduce the value of properties one-half, argue these citizens. They are willing to sell their homes if purchased now at their true value, but so long as that is not done they will fight the plan to abandon Kendall avenue to the last ditch.

No Conclusion Arrived At

The officials went over the ground thoroughly but disbanded without arriving at any definite conclusion, though members of the council committee, Messrs. George Gulker, Ed Shump and Ed Westphal, expressed themselves as most favorably impressed with the overhead plan, believing it to be the best for all concerned. It would not benefit a few but the entire city, the N. & W. and street railway. It would have different advantages over the subway plan, they said, and they will most likely recommend its adoption. They had only wanted the board of trade or some other organization to assume the initiative in a matter of such vital importance to the community.

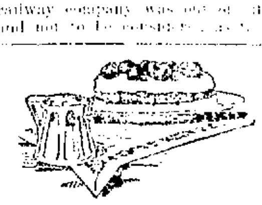

Before the conference adjourned arrangements were made to assemble at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon when matters will be more thoroughly threshed out.

IMPEACHMENT OF A JUDGE IS BEGUN

Washington, June 12.—Impeachment proceedings against Federal District Judge A. G. Dayton of West Virginia, were introduced in the house today, and without opposition referred to the judiciary committee. Representative McNeeley of West Virginia, impeached the judge on the grounds of high crimes and misdemeanors, conspiracy with corporations and individuals to bring about the removal of Judge John J. Jackson so that he might get his place; of favoritism to corporations having extensive litigations in his court and of personal and judicial misconduct.

General Assault On Mazatlan Works

On Board the U. S. Ship California, Mazatlan, Mex., via Wireless to San Diego, Cal., June 12.—The constitutionalists under General Obregon began today its first concentrated general assault on the federal fortifications at Mazatlan commanded by General Rodriguez. The battle raged all day, and although the besieged garrison held its position it lost heavily in killed and wounded.

ANTILLA MUNITIONS SAFE IN REBEL HANDS

Tampico, June 11, via Laredo, Texas, June 12—The steamship Antilla from New York discharged her cargo of arms for the constitutionalists here today. Sixteen hundred cases of ammunition and two aeroplanes were immediately dispatched northward to the constitutionalists.

Until after her arrival at the wharf the Antilla knew nothing of the projected blockade or of the presence of the federal gunboats Zaragosa or Bravos. The steamer at once left for Tampico to recover the body of Weston Burwell, the American reported killed by federals on April 22.

Serious Rioting Continues In Italy

Rome, Italy, June 12.—Serious rioting was resumed in a half a dozen cities, centers of the Italian Socialist general strike, and bloody conflicts with troops marked more than one center. In Naples the troops fired on more than one Socialist demonstration. At Florence, Imola, Turin and many other points it is known that desperate fights have taken place, and no exact figures are obtainable. It is known that scores have been killed and wounded.

Murdered Girl's Body Is Found In The River

Baltimore, Md., June 12.—A second arrest is expected in twenty-four hours, following the mysterious death of Miss Ella G. Watters, the pretty young stenographer whose body was found floating in a creek at the mouth of Curtis Bay on Monday.

John Rice, a negro servant employed by D. Meredith Reese, Jr., with whom the girl was in love, was given a severe third degree grilling by State's Attorney Green and Sheriff Pottz and he is reported to have given the authorities valuable information.

All doubt that the girl was murdered has been wiped out according to Coroner Hemphill who performed a post mortem examination of Miss Winter's remains. This examination showed a triangular indentation on the right side of the skull. This blow, detectives said, might have been made with an oar or a boat hook.

Dr. William B. D. Penniman, the state chemist, is making an investigation of the girl's stomach to ascertain if she had been drugged.

Reese, who has been questioned by the police, sticks to his original story. He said that the girl visited him on his house boat on the Patapsco river Thursday night but that he had taken her ashore at nine o'clock Thursday night. However, Arthur L. Miller, attendants at Flood's pier where Reese said he had landed the girl, told the authorities that he had been on duty all of Thursday night and had not seen Miss Winter in the vicinity.

FUNSTON FEARS AN ATTACK COMING ON VERA CRUZ OUTPOSTS

(By W. J. Maddox, staff correspondent of the International News Service at the war department.)

Washington, D. C., June 12—A new element of danger in the Mexican situation is causing war department officials many anxious moments, the fear that the operations of the rebel forces of the Vera Cruz district may cause the federals to attack the American outposts about the city of Vera Cruz to stave off defeat at the hands of the Revolutionists. Gen. Funston has repeatedly asked officials here for permission not only to strengthen, but to extend his lines about the city of Vera Cruz and further into the interior.

Secretary Bryan has opposed such a course, as he believed action of this kind undesirable during the mediation proceedings.

In circles closely in touch with the situation it was said today that the federals easily could capture the American outposts at Vera Cruz with the forces now at their disposal in the district.

Such a move, it was stated, by one military expert, probably is part of Huerta's program of activity in the South of Mexico for the bottling up of the Constitutionalist forces.

With the trenches about Vera Cruz in his command, Huerta would then have the constitutionalists hemmed in between the two main divisions of his army, the one at Mexico City and the other at Vera Cruz. He could then take the field in person and begin an aggressive campaign against Gen. Carranza.

It was further pointed out that the driving out of the American forces would have a tremendous influence on the National sentiment of the Mexicans and would cause thousands to flock to the federal standards.

It would be the one factor possible for rallying Mexico to his side.

Huerta, in justification of his action, might maintain that the taking of the American outposts was necessary and was caused by the advances of the Constitutionalists.

The unmolested landing of the arms and ammunition for the Constitutionalists at Tampico by the ward liner Antilla is believed to have added to the hatred of the federalists for the United States.

They feel that they have been treated shabbily by this government, in view of the fact that President Huerta rescinded his order for the blockading of Tampico on the plea of furthering mediation.

The war department insists, however, that no orders have been issued authorizing Gen. Funston to extend his lines, and a close censorship is being maintained on official reports from the city.

CONWELL AND EDWARDS INJURED--LOCALS LOST

Played Ten Innings Before Senators Won Fine Fielding Game

Charleston, W. Va., June 12.—While it required ten innings of stubborn play, Charleston took the concluding game of the Portsmouth series, 5 to 4, yesterday. Carter was sent back to pitch after a trial Wednesday and was ineffective in the first inning, when the Senators scored three runs on three singles, a triple and a stolen base.

Applegate let down in the third and the visitors tied the score, Edwards hitting a two-bagger with three on, and getting caught himself trying to stretch it into a triple. The visitors played under a handicap, Conwell, considered by many the best second-sacker on the circuit, being out of the game. Manager Childs was required to change his lineup, sending Sharman to left, Baggan to third and Goostree to the keystone sack. The batting order remained as it was on the preceding day. Hits were obtained at crucial times.

Edwards was the batting star of the Cubs, having two safeties in three times up, one of which sent in three runs. He wrenched his knee early in the game and could not cover distance rapidly, or would have at least landed safe at third on his long drive down the left field foul line, which was almost sufficient to have changed the loss into a win.

Keating made a wonderful catch after a hard run [illegible] Nutter scored two unusually difficult ones after making speedy springs and getting to the right places at the right time. Bresnahan also contributed one masterful play which offset to a certain extent his later error.

Cuban Wants $25,000

Armando Marsans came forward with the story Friday that he was going to stick in St. Louis and would not join the Reds despite the fact that his suspension has been lifted by Manager Herzog. It seems as though the Reds have refused to sign the Cuban as he is holding out for $25,000, 'tis said.

WILL GIANTS WIN FOURTH PENNANT

The law of precedents appears to be the only thing at this writing, against which the McGraw Giants must buck. No team in the National league has ever won four straight league pennants. Some years back, Fred Clarke and his Pirates were headed for their fourth successive streamer. The Giants scuttled the Corsair crew. Now the Pittsburghers are doing their durndest to return the compliment, but, though Clarke has a grand little team, up to early in June it hadn't been there in the punch.

Hard To Down Champions

New York, June 12.—Dethroning a pugilistic champion is a mighty hard job, as the records of the past and present will show. Not only do many aspirants offer themselves at the altar of sacrifice before the crown shatterer finally arrives, but even then the dethroning person usually has to extend himself to the extreme limit to send the old champ into the discard.

John L. Sullivan reigned supreme in the heavyweight division for many years, beating 11 opponents with ease. Then Jim Corbett came along and proved himself the master of the crown wearer, but not before 21 rounds of the most terrific fighting ever seen in America.

Corbett then defended the crown [illegible] Fitzsimmons loomed along the horizon. Bob got a match with Corbett finally, but it took him 14 lop-sided rounds to take unto himself the laurel that Corbett had taken from Sullivan.

Jeffries, with almost twice the bulk of Fitz, had to go 11 furious rounds before he became the champion. Jack Johnson, in his prime in 1910, was forced to battle for 15 rounds before he whipped Jeffries, although Jeff was then but a shadow of his former self.

Battling Nelson, in the prime of his career, and Joe Gans, then on the downgrade, in the lightweight championship battle years ago. Yet Gans, weakened by age, by too strenuous training and by dissipation, forced the wonderful battler to go 17 rounds before he could grab the crown from the dusky dome, and then Nelson, after [illegible] all those who had faced him [illegible] Ad Wolgast, the "Michigan Wildcat."

[illegible] added years [illegible] Nelson's strength. Wolgast, young and fresh, in perfect condition, was [illegible] the Dane after 11 rounds of fierce milling.

But the little fellow lasted a little while still [illegible] to a pulp, delirious with pain, the old fighting instinct [illegible] down and Nelson kept [illegible] from the 20th round until the 31st. Then, when he was just a bleeding, crushed wreck of a human being, the referee led him to his corner and despite the Dane's mumbled protests, gave the fight and the crown to Wolgast, who [illegible] was in a terribly battered condition.

It took Willie Ritchie 16 rounds to win from Wolgast—and then his victory was of a flukey nature. Honors seemed to be about even in the 15th, the fight looked good to go to the limit. When the 16th opened Ritchie swung at Wolgast and landed. The champion countered and a whirlwind mixup ensued, during which Wolgast hit too low—and the fight was over. The world was hailing a new champion.

Terry McGovern caught George Dixon when the negro was on the down grade and put him out in eight rounds. Stanley Ketchel beat Joe Thomas and took the middleweight championship from him—but the fight went 32 rounds.

Abe Attell, a champion for many years, went the limit, 20 rounds, with Johnny Kilbane and lost his featherweight title on points. It was a battle of age against youth and the latter won. But the margin was close. Attell for several years before had been on the down grade. Kilbane had been rushing along at top speed. Yet the old boxing master gave the youth a mighty fight before he relinquished his title.

It took Frank Erne 20 rounds to win from Kid (George) Lavigne, even though Erne had youth in his favor. Jack Dempsey stood up under the merciless fusillade of Fitzsimmons for 13 rounds before he took the count.

Of course, there are a few exceptions to the general rule that champions are hard to beat. Joe Gans knocked out champion Frank Erne in less than a round, and Young Corbett needed less than two rounds to send Terry McGovern to the mat and take his title. But the exceptions are rare.

A statistician who gathered the dope on all the battles in which titles changed hands in all classes during the last 30 years has discovered that the average time it takes to dethrone a champion is a fraction less than 20 rounds, which shows that champions die rather hard.

ARTIE HOFMAN WINS SUIT

Chicago, June 12.—Artie Hofman was awarded $2,953.77 in a verdict returned today in his suit against the Chicago Nationals baseball club for back salary, which was tried in the municipal court. Hofman claimed the money under a contract which he had with the Chicago club in 1912. He was released to Pittsburgh in that year before the expiration of the contract, and when the Pittsburgh club later released him to a minor league club he asked President Murphy, of the Cubs, to pay him the salary still due under the contract. Murphy told him, according to testimony heard in the suit, to look to the Pittsburgh club for the money.

Fireworks In The American

Now for the fireworks in the American. What follows is not for Washingtonians to read. Everybody in the Capital has already picked out just where they're going to sit when, in their own minds, the Senators meet the National league winners next fall. Any Washingtonian who reads this won't believe it. But it's DOPE.

It's perfectly true that Clark Griffith has Walter Johnson. There is also Mile-a-Minute Milan, Base-Grabber Gandil and others of their ilk, not to mention George McBride, who seldom causes any sparks, but who generally is conceded to be the greatest shortstop in the game today. But (and we must hedge once more behind the dope alibi) according to dope, Connie Mack has shown the class he totes about the country with him. With the exception of his pitching staff, which had not come up to expectations early this month, he has the same old crowd, doing the same old stunts.

Thus this Washington-Philadelphia argument simmers down to a comparison of the Griffithian-Mackian pitching departments. Bender is far from gone and there may be quite a few worrying splinters left in Plank, but neither is what he used to be. Mack must depend on his younger pitchers, Bush, Shawkey, Pennock, et. al., for the brunt of his battle. Griffith has the winning Walter, Ayres, Shaw and Engel, who have shown more stuff than the young Mack twirlers.

All in all, it must be conceded to the rabid Washington fan that the Washington-Philadelphia fight for the first place should furnish as pretty a knock-down and drag-out as has ever been staged in either league.

GET EVEN BREAK

The Reds have secured an even break on their Eastern trip and at the present clip they are going along they should return home with two or three games to the good. They broke even in Boston and have split even so far in Philadelphia town.

The St. Louis Nationals are the lads who have braced up. They have won four out of six games played on Eastern soil and the club is due for a climb, as the pitchers are going along finely and the team is hitting consistently.

REDS BEATEN IN NINTH

After taking the lead from the Philadelphia club in the seventh inning Thursday, the Reds turned around and lost a heart-breaker in the ninth when Burns, batting for Becker, got around on a base on balls, a wild pitch, a sacrifice and a long fly.

Then Cravath clipped one into the bleachers for a home run and the game was over, the Reds trooping off the field a beaten club, the final being 3 to 2. Yingling's wildness in the ninth spelled defeat for the Red hurler, who up to that inning had pitched beautiful ball and the Reds looked like sure winners. But you can never tell in a ball game just when some gink will rock the boat.

LARGEST CLASS IN THE HISTORY OF LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL GETS DIPLOMAS

The commodious auditorium at the new high school building was crowded to its capacity Thursday evening with the relatives and friends of the thirty young men and twenty young women who had finished their course of study in the Portsmouth High School to witness their graduation. It was the largest class that has ever been graduated from the Portsmouth High School, which in itself is a splendid tribute to the educational branch of the city government.

Shortly after eight o'clock the curtain was drawn, revealing an attractive stage setting with the young men graduates in sombre black and the sweet girl graduates all in white, each carrying a bouquet of flowers. Grouped on either side of the graduates were Superintendent Appel, Principal Creveling and the members of the high school faculty, and Dean Chubb, of Ohio University, the commencement orator. The stage was tastily arranged in a veritable bower of cut flowers and potted plants, which enhanced greatly its appearance. The class motto, "Post Proelium, Praemium," revealed in brilliantly lighted incandescents, hung suspended about midway at the rear of the stage, forming a pleasing background.

So pleasing was the commencement program that the discomforts caused by the intense heat were entirely lost sight of, and the hour and a half consumed by its rendition passed all too quickly for the majority of the large audience. Seldom has it been privileged a Portsmouth audience to listen to as eloquent and able an address as that delivered to the graduating class by Dean Chubb, while the members of the class contributed largely to the enjoyment of the evening with their musical renditions.

Dean Chubb Gives A Splendid Address

Dean Chubb chose for the subject of his address, "The Loyal Life," a theme which he developed in such an entertaining and instructive manner that he had the entire audience following his every word. His introductory remarks, interspersed here and there with witty sallies, brought the speaker and his hearers to a pleasant state of familiarity, so that they were in the proper mood to receive his inspiring message which followed soon afterward. During the course of his opening remarks, Dean Chubb paid a high compliment to Portsmouth's new seat of learning, which he declared to be the most conveniently arranged and attractive in appearance that he has visited for some time.

Talks On Real Education

In the first part of his address, Dean Chubb dwelt upon the five qualities of the educated man, as enumerated by an American college president in speaking of the life of Lincoln. To be able to see accurately, to reason correctly, to feel soundly, to grow steadily, and to act with loyalty, these are the attributes of the really educated man. There is a great difference in illiteracy and ignorance. The illiterate man may be educated. The educated man is the man who can meet an emergency.

Loyalty Was Main Theme

It was the fifth quality, loyalty, which Dean Chubb characterized as the quintessence of the educated man, that gave the speaker the inspiration for the greater portion of his address. Loyalty, he declared was the very consummation and flower of all culture. It was faithfulness plus something else, and that something else is love. The qualities that prompted the lines,

"Master, go on and I will follow thee,
To the last gasp with truth and loyalty."

Such affectionate devotion can spring only from a passionate love. It is easy to be loyal to one's ideals if one is in love with the ideal.

Religion, in the thought of Matthew Arnold, is morality plus emotion. Jewry with its ten commandments had truth, but it did very little towards reforming the world. Christ with his Sermon on the Mount plus the cross on Calvary transformed the world.

Morality without emotion cannot save the world, nor can an abstract philosophy save a man. Faith must be a passion. Loyalty must include the love that leads a mother to sacrifice all for her child, that leads the martyr to burn at the stake.

To illustrate his point, Dean Chubb referred to the lives of the Japanese County Nogi, Livingstone, the ancient gladiators, St. Paul, and Christ, drawing out those qualities which it would be worth while to emulate.

"When I am dead
May this with truth be said
On the rude stone that marks my lowly head:
That spite of doubt and indecision,
In spite of weakness, lameness, blindness,
Heart's treachery and Fate's unkindness,
Still through my earthly course I went,
Not disobedient
Unto the heavenly vision."

Mr. Chubb Gets An Ovation

Dean Chubb received an ovation at the conclusion of his address, the entire audience joining in the expression of appreciation of the eloquent and inspiring message, which made a profound impression upon all.

Supt. Appel Gives Diplomas

The presentation of the diplomas to the graduates by Superintendent Frank Appel followed soon after Dean Chubb's address. This pleasant task was originally assigned to George D. Scudder, president of the Board of Education, but owing to his unavoidable absence from the city, the duty devolved upon Superintendent Appel.

That the different grades of graduation might be more intelligently understood by the audience, Mr. Appel prefaced the actual presentation of diplomas with a review of the different courses of study in the high school curriculum, and the average grades that have to be maintained by the student for the entire four years through high school to graduate with diploma, with distinction, or highest distinction.

Application to his studies, both inside and outside of school, played a big factor in the success of the student, and in almost every instance, according to his opinion, close application had its reward in honor at the close of the four year's course. In presenting the members of the class with their diplomas, Superintendent Appel bade them Godspeed on the journey through life which they were about to inaugurate.

Senior Chorus Is Prominent

The Senior chorus, composed of four young women and a like number of young men from the graduating class, had a prominent place on the program, and their selections were well received. The opening number, "Honor and Glory," by Costa, furnished abundant opportunity for the blending of the voices, while the second selection, "Summer Fancies," by Ingalls, also elicited much applause. This chorus is composed of the Misses Irma Lindenmeyer and Hazel Pfau, sopranos, Misses Helen Atlas and Gladys Lantz, altos, Messrs. Harold Welch and James Pearce, tenors, and Messrs. Carl Blankemeyer and Joseph Jones, basses. The last named four also composed the Senior Quartette, which was heard to good advantage in the "Huntsmen's Chorus" by Parry, and "Hark! 'Tis the Midnight Bells," by White.

Miss Lindenmeyer Gave Fine Solo

Miss Irma Lindenmeyer, one of the most talented young vocalists in the city who has frequently assisted in entertainments of various nature during her school life, contributed one of the most pleasing numbers of the program, a vocal solo, "Blackbird and Thrush," by Borsdorf. This number was enthusiastically applauded. Miss Louise Evans, a member of the class, officiated as accompanist for all of the musical numbers.

Rev. L. I. Hart, pastor of Manly M. E. church, invoked the divine blessing at the beginning of the exercises, and also dismissed the audience with a benediction at the close.

At the conclusion of the exercises the relatives and friends of the graduates in large numbers congratulated them upon the auspicious start they had made and extended their best wishes for their future success. Members of the class rendered their class song with much gusto near the close of the evening's exercises.

Lung Trouble Yielded to This Medicine

If you are suffering with Lung Trouble, or if you know of some unfortunate person so afflicted, would you take the trouble of fully investigating a medicine which has brought about complete recovery in a number of very serious cases? Dr. Eckman's Alterative, a remedy for Throat and Lung Troubles, has been given the highest credit for resulting health in a large number of cases. Read this:—

1623 Girard Ave., Phila., Pa.

"Gentlemen: In the winter of 1903 I had an attack of Grippe, followed by Pneumonia, and later by Lung Trouble. In the winter of 1904 I had cough, night sweats, fever, and raised quantities of awful-looking stuff and later I had many hemorrhages; at one time three in three successive days. Milk and eggs became so digested I could keep nothing down. Three physicians treated me. I was ordered to the mountains, but did not go. Eckman's Alterative was recommended by a friend. After taking a few months I had the first quiet night's sleep for weeks. My improvement was marked from the first. I gained strength and weight and appetite. I never had another hemorrhage and my cough gradually lessened until entirely gone. I am perfectly well."

(Affidavit) ANNIE P. LOUGHRAN.

Eckman's Alterative has been proven by many years' test to be most effective for severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stubborn Colds and in upbuilding the system. Contains no narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of its cures and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for evidence. For sale by all leading druggists.

"A Tree Is Known By Its Fruit"

A lady came in the Bi-Chemic Doctors' office for examination the other day, who said she had been under her family physicians' care for a little over a year, and during that time her medicine had been changed fifty four times by the doctor. This is too frequently the method used by general practitioners. They simply give medicine for this, that, and the other symptoms for temporary relief, without removing the cause which produce these symptoms.

If one medicine fails to work, they try another, hit and miss fashion, which is sure to result in failure and discouragement to any sufferer. This thing of asking a patient a few questions, taking a hurried peek at the tongue, feeling the pulse, looking wise, talking doubtful, and writing prescriptions in a dead language which no one can read, has brought great discredit upon the noble science of medicine, and is no longer considered by the truly scientific specialist.

The Bi-Chemic Doctors some years ago changed this old method when they founded their new system of treatment. They never attempted to treat any case without a searching examination, and thorough diagnosis. By this means they get at the real cause of the trouble and do not dally along treating symptoms. And when they are through with their examination the cause of the disease is found.

Once the true seat of the trouble has been discovered, then it is only a matter of applying those remarkable remedies which will remove that cause and result in a permanent cure. These methods have made the Bi-Chemic Doctors famous throughout the nation for their multitude of cures, where other doctors have utterly failed.

One would naturally suppose such remarkable successful treatment would be expensive; that specialists of so high standing would demand exorbitant fees quite out of reach of ordinary people. Strange as it may seem, such is not the case. When the Bi-Chemic Doctors founded their new system some years ago, they decided to keep the cost of treatment within the reach of all, poor or rich, and they have not deviated from this rule.

They are truly the people's specialists, and all may consult them freely and without cost, and certain of being treated right, both professionally and financially. One small price always covers the services of these specialists and all medicines and treatments used. "Live and let live" is their motto. The fact that great attainments and success have been given to the Bi-Chemic Doctors, does not give them the moral right to bear heavily upon diseased and suffering people who need their services. At least that is the way they look at it.

The Bi-Chemic Doctors have their Portsmouth Institute located on the third floor of the Masonic Temple Building, where they treat all curable cases of chronic diseases of the kidneys, liver, blood, heart, nerves, and respiratory organs, including rheumatism, indigestion, constipation, gall stones, neuralgia, skin diseases, catarrh, dropsy epilepsy, goitre, loss of appetite, nervousness, scrofula, blood poisons, diseases of men and diseases of women. Their consultation is free, also the examination to all who may come, but incurable cases accepted for treatment.

However, this fact need not prevent any sick person from going to them, for many cases are considered incurable by other doctors.

LOOKING AFTER OUR INTERESTS.

The thoughtful representative that has introduced a bill providing a heavy penalty for the members of the cabinet or other big officials going out into the tall-uncut and gathering a few simoleons for the rainy day by the smooth evolution of the Chautauqua circuit, has the unreserved thanks and good will of the paragraphers for not including them in the list of outlaws. Having been able to fool 'em and not get the money, this sublime and aristocratic order of deep thinkers are on the eve of making other arrangements in view that others less capable find the garnering easy and profitable.

THE HIGH COST.

The fellows who think in politics and nothing else and who delight in creating paragraphs inclined to charge the high cost of living to the administration are generally those who found it just as hard to live when products were cheap as they do now when they are high. When products were cheap they did not have the wherewith to buy as the income from their employment was not such that permitted it. The advance has come in all lines and generally speaking we all live better than we ever did before and our demands are far more. Which do you prefer?

ORDERS FROM PINCHOTT.

Mr. Pinchott, the chief forester of the Bull Moose reservation has made public demand to the ruler of the universe that Mr. Perkins be fired bodily off the eat-boat if he does not forthwith tender his resignation as a member of the executive committee of the Progressive party, alleging in the premises that George is associated with a crowd of trust fellows who thinks far more of a mule than they do of a human, and that such association and his official membership in the army of Armageddon does not assimilate, or words to that effect. These demands are made, so the cheerful and painstaking guardian of the Bull Moose hide says, to keep the skin out of the hands of the tanners so that the taxidermist may complete the mounting as such fauna is becoming exceedingly scarce.

When the suffragettes refused to eat, the English parsons said "let them die." Now the suffs say they will die before they will abandon their struggle, and those heartless parsons, who should be ashamed of themselves for such intemperate expressions, will not be permitted to officiate at the funerals, which is another incident of cutting off the nose to spite the face.

The Louisville papers have arrived at an agreement that they will put up for six weeks of Billy Sunday, but they solemnly pledge themselves to a man to not stand for "the rambling and promises of the choir leader."

Those Illinois brethren who cannot pull off a Sunday school picnic without having a bar on the grounds, must be filled with the same kind of religious fervor that an old Kentucky "Hard-shell" preacher had who was going down to Lost Creek to preach a funeral, his name we cannot recall for he is too well known in Portsmouth. Anyway this good brother remarked to a brother politician that he "would like to know where he could get a little whisky as he had a powerful big funeral to preach tomorrow."

Of course the fact that the big courts are taking their summer vacations it is not to say that some sort of a legal instrument cannot be filed in the Thaw case. Some of the legal fraternity are so situated at present that they have to hustle around for the three meals just like the rest of us common folks.

There seems to be some hope for the country since the attorney general has said that a property owner is not required to maintain a hitching post for the public. We have gone through life with the wrong impression that we were compelled to not only furnish the post, but the back fence as well, and during a rainy day throw in the front porch for the saddles and the lap robes.

Colombia is acting just like a spoiled child anticipating the good things promised by the holidays in considering the treaty with this country that holds out a small donation of $25,000,000 for a little midnight confiscation in a neighborhood in which she claims an interest, and her controlling power has ratified the treaty two times already and is ready to do it again if it be necessary to open the Washington treasury. Colombia is liable to receive this donation about the time Cleveland collects the Rockefeller tax.

The administration should not have any trouble in recognizing Huerta, when most any newspaper reader in the country could pick him out in a crowd.

Louisiana cannot get over the Louisiana Lottery scheme where the capital prizes went to the outsider and made a few undesirable people within rich so its legislature defeated a bill to restore racing within that state.

The only interest us folks have in the matter, we who have been just dying to fight, is that the new substitute for watchful waiting will not be drawn out so long that hopefulness will be crowded out by a spirit of impatience.

If you have forgotten that today is local Flag Day there is yet time to put out the banner and rally around it.

Twelve Hurt When Huntington Street Cars Meet Head-on

Huntington, W. Va., June 12—Twelve were injured, two seriously, when two Sixth avenue street cars crashed together head-on, just east of Tenth street, on Sixth avenue, about last midnight.

The Seriously Injured

Willard Watts, motorman on west-bound car No. 107, bad cut in back of head, deep cuts on leg and other minor cuts and bruises.

R. A. Lawhorn, conductor on east-bound car No. 108, injuries in head. May be hurt internally.

Other Injured

Fred McMillen, George Post, C. C. Watts, Charles Crabtree, James Mitchell, J. M. Reed, J. O. Peyton, Mrs. Nettie West, colored, Chris Lutz and George Martin, motorman on Car 108.

Injuries of the passengers consisted of cuts about the head, hands and legs, but none were seriously hurt. Of the crew, F. W. Mullins, conductor on Car 107 escaped practically without injuries.

Following the crash the east-bound car caught fire, but all passengers were taken out without receiving burns. Some minutes after the accident Chris Lutz was found prostrate on the rear platform of the east-bound car. After recovering he said he had been stunned by electricity. He had a scratch on his leg. The old man was carried to the curbstone where physicians said he was not in serious condition.

The injured members of the crew, after being dressed by physicians, were taken to the Huntington hospital. An automobile truck was furnished to take injured passengers home. There were twenty three passengers on the east-bound car, but only the crew on the west-bound.

As to the cause of the accident it was explained that up until two weeks ago Car 108, east-bound, on its last trip, had been passing Car 107, west-bound, for the barns at Sixteenth street. A new schedule order was issued by which the cars should pass at Tenth street.

It was admitted last night, it is understood, that the order had been forgotten and that Car 108 had been started for the Sixteenth street switch.

The crew of Car 107 say that just as the car passed over the grade at Eleventh street the east-bound car loomed into sight. The car was reversed, but too late to avert the crash. George Martin, motorman of the east-bound car, says he reversed his car also.

Plan To Have Big Meeting

Members of River City Camp, Woodmen of the World, are earnestly requested to attend the regular meeting of the lodge Friday evening. At this time, the officers and degree team will hold a rehearsal of the work in the Protection degree, which degree they will exemplify before Sovereign Commander W. A. Fraser, of Omaha, Neb., at Dayton, Ohio, on July 12th. A special train will be run from Portsmouth to Dayton on that date, carrying a large number of local Woodmen and their families and friends.

Girls Get Good Homes

Notice has been received by Probate Judge Beatty Thursday from Margaret E. McNamara, chief matron, that she has succeeded in finding good homes for Piccy Miranda and Eva Smith, Scioto county girls sentenced to the Girls' Industrial School at Delaware from this county. The Miranda girl has been placed in the home of Miss W. K. Peart, of 1991 Broad street, Columbus, Ohio, while the Smith girl is being cared for at the home of Mrs. O. B. Marsh, 3535 Michigan avenue, Hyde Park, Cincinnati.

First Baptist Class Had Good Meeting

The Men's Bible class of the First Baptist church held their regular monthly business meeting and entertainment last night. It was well attended, considering the hot weather, about 35 being present. The absentees are the losers, as they missed a rare treat. The meeting was opened by prayer by Brother George Carson. The new roll-call board made by Barney Donley and Alfred Lloyd and adopted by the class, will be ready for use next Sunday morning. It is a fine piece of workmanship and will be the means of giving more time to the lesson.

A vote of thanks was extended to Barney Donley and Alfred Lloyd for presenting the board to the class.

The committee on arrangements for the moonlight ride were unable to get a suitable date for the boat in the past month, but will make arrangements for some sort of an outing within the next three weeks. The same committee will look after the arrangements. The committee is W. G. Carson, W. S. Harley, Charles Starling, Charles Bennett, L. G. Heiniger.

The president of the class gave a fine talk on the good of the class, and urged that members to boost the membership as much as possible. He also urged the various committees to be right on their jobs.

The program put on was one of the best the class ever witnessed, and was as follows:

Piano Selection by Brother C. Clark.

Humorous Recitation, "The Custard Pie," by Mr. Harry Porter, of the R. R. Y. M. C. A.

Several imitations by Mr. Harry Porter in fact he imitates most everything that walks, crawls or creeps, kept the class in an uproar from the time he started until the finish.

Italian Recitation by Mr. Harry Porter.

Solo by Mrs. William Sellards, accompanied by Miss Sadie McAfee.

In conclusion the class sang "Nearer My God to Thee."

The class teacher, Dr. T. H. McAfee, being in New York City, could not very well attend.

Closing prayer by Brother Van Gorder.

ONE OF THE CLASS.

Boy's Arm Broken

William Black, 11-year-old son of David Black, of Robinson avenue, suffered the fracture of his left arm in a fall from his wheel on Chillicothe street. As he went to turn up Gallia street his wheel got caught in a car track and Black was thrown heavily to the street.

MR. APPEL IS O. K. AGAIN

George M. Appel has practically recovered from the serious burns he sustained six weeks ago when a machine he was using to "bake" his rheumatic arm exploded. He can now drive his automobile and has full use of both hands. Mr. and Mrs. Appel will leave Monday for Minneapolis to attend a meeting of the National Wholesale Grocers' Association.

Reward Is Offered

Sheriff Andy Givens, of Pike county, has issued notices that $50 reward will be paid for the horse stolen from the Patterson farm near Piketon, on Monday night, June 8th, 1914. The animal was a brown mare, eight years old, 15 hands high, and weighs about 900 pounds. A steel tire runabout, red running gear and black body, and a good set of buggy harness, brass mounted, were also stolen at the same time.

HARRY KNAUSS IS GRADUATE AT FORDHAM

The New York Tribune of June 10th gives an extended account of the graduating exercises at Fordham University, held on Tuesday evening, at which Governor Martin H. Glynn, of New York state, delivered the principal address. Governor Glynn graduated at Fordham 20 years ago.

Among the graduates was Harry A. Knauss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank V. Knauss, of Portsmouth, who was given the degree of doctor of medicine. Mr. Knauss made a fine record, as the result of which he won a two-year interneship at a famous New York hospital.

Governor Glynn, in his address, spoke feelingly of his college days and read eloquently his address to the graduates in law and medicine. The early part of his talk was lightened with humorous remarks.

He spoke of making a round of the university Tuesday afternoon with an old instructor.

"I remarked to him," said the governor, "that I little thought when I was here 20 years ago that I would be governor of the state of New York."

"'Neither did I,' he responded.

The governor told how his mother had contributed out of a purse none too well filled to send him to Fordham and that she was prouder of the medals he won in the university than of the political honors he had gained.

Speaking to the graduates, he counseled them, to remember that law and medicine are akin and that they should bear this in mind as they stepped forth upon the road of life.

MURDERER BEARD IS EXAMINED; PROBABLY WILL BE FOUND SANE

Trenton, O., June 12. Drs. Lester M. Orr, N. K. Mosley and E. E. Wells, the expert witnesses called by the defense in the Harley Beard case, spent several hours at the county jail yesterday, interviewing and examining Beard as to his mental capacity and physical condition. Attorney P. C. Booth, Deputy Sheriff Hutchinson and Prosecuting Attorney L. K. Cooper were present at the examination, which was very rigid and covered every phase of inquiry that might establish an opinion as to whether Beard is sane or insane, mentally competent or a degenerate, normal in his views or a natural criminal.

The line of questioning to which Beard was subjected was one best calculated to display his educational faculties, his powers of reasoning, his views of crime, etc., and among other things he was quizzed closely as to his early life and habits, the details of his crime and on every topic that the three medical men could think of to make the test a thorough one for both the defense and the state.

While the examining physicians could give out no interview relative to their opinions, which will be called for in a hearing of the case next Monday, it is pretty generally understood that they found nothing to indicate insanity of the prisoner. If such an opinion is given in the testimony before the court, it will corroborate the opinion of Beard's counsel. Attorney P. C. Booth, who stated the day of his arraignment that his client was perfectly sane.

It is expected that the case will not occupy more than two days of the court's time, as the witnesses are few and their evidence as to facts in the case are practically uncontested.

Fell From "Airship"

Although Truss Lynn, a conductor in the employ of the street railway company, is not an aviator he knows what it is to suffer a bad fall from an "airship."

As he went to climb to the top of car No. 21, known as the "airship," a cleat pulled out without warning and Mr. Lynn fell heavily to the street. His right ankle was sprained and he was badly shaken up. The accident occurred at Fourth and Chillicothe streets this morning when Mr. Lynn started to adjust the trolley wire.

Predict New War In The Balkans

London, June 12—Another war between Greece and Turkey is foreshadowed by the Times, which says the unrest in the Balkans has become acute. Several of the states, it says, have been recently employed in clearing their newly acquired territories of "undesirable elements," and the Bulgarians have been the principal sufferers.

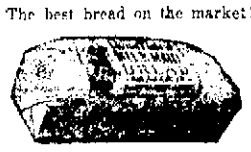

The unrest is attributed to the drastic policies of the Young Turks of expelling all Greeks from Asia Minor and Turkish Trace.

Capture of Vera Cruz Vividly Painted By Portsmouth Boy

From the pen of G. M. Coryell, chief master at arms on board the U. S. S. San Francisco is given a description of the thrilling scenes attending the seizure of Vera Cruz. Coryell was in the midst of this history making event in the current Mexican war and writes interestingly to the Times of his view of the situation.

He is a former Portsmouth boy and by means of the letter gives local friends inside news of the scenes attending the capture of the Mexican seaport. He supplemented his letter with excellent pictures of the scenes in hostile waters. The letter follows:

Editor Portsmouth Times:

Will drop you a line or two for publication in your paper. I am originally a Portsmouth boy myself, and will try to give you the details of our trouble in Mexico, and the present situation which extends through the entire Province of Vera Cruz. On March 18 the San Francisco, (Mine layer) was ordered to proceed to Tampico, Mexico, and stand by for orders from the Flagship Connecticut, which is Admiral Mayo's flagship.

We arrived at 1:45 p. m. March 19, dropped anchor in our original berth, and everything seemed quiet until April 15, when we were ordered to stand by to cross the bar, and proceed up the river to Tampico, to get refugees, but was subject to a change, which came at a moment's notice by our powerful wireless codes, which carry our messages from one ship to the other for a distance of fifteen to sixteen hundred miles, and so on up to two thousand miles. The change was via the U. S. S. DesMoines, which was already up the river, standing by to handle the Mexican gunboats with the long arm system, speaking of which means on ships "Battery."

The DesMoines has ten 5 inch guns, and she had orders to fire if the federals interfered with the American refugees which she was taking aboard from the town of Tampico to distribute through the fleet. At about 5:45 p. m. on the 16th of April, the DesMoines steamed slowly out over the bar, with about four hundred and fifty American refugees aboard, also a few Mexicans, who were neutral. They were all transfered to the different ships stationed there, which included the U. S. S. San Francisco, Utah, Connecticut, Minnesota, Spanish ship Carlos V., also the English ship Lancaster, and the German Cruiser Brennan.

These refugees were kept aboard for three days and enjoyed it very much, especially the little children, who were quite numerous, and the sailors enjoyed them aboard for company, as this is not a great place for amusements down here in Mexico. On the morning of April 19 we transfered all our refugees back to their homes in Tampico, as the rioting had ceased and the rebels under the command of Villa, had retreated on the account of not having their artillery with them, and they decided to take Tampico later. The men on the ships thought all was well for the present, and to our surprise (but it was a pleasant surprise for all hands cheered when we received the below orders), we received orders to get underway at 12:30 p. m. on April 20, and proceed to Vera Cruz, with all possible speed. The distance from Tampico to Vera Cruz is about five hundred miles. So the orders were carried out and in a very short time we were speeding toward Vera Cruz at the rate of about 14 knots per hour when we caught a relayed message to make more speed and to go inside the break-water at Vera Cruz as soon as we arrived there, as the marines and sailors had taken the custom house and three of our men had been killed, and the Prairie was shelling the town, and driving the federal artillery out of their position. This took place on April 21. We arrived at 9:30 that night. We received orders to be very cautious about going inside the break-water as we had to pass the Mexican fort San Juan De Ulua, and to look out for shooting which we did. We got by the fort O. K. and was nearing our destination when we received a volley of rifle fire, some of the bullets hitting our steam launch on the port side. In the meantime our dear old Admiral Fletcher, who was in charge of the campaign here, gave the fort orders if there was a sound or a move heard of them he would level it to the ground with the Florida's 12 inch guns which shoots 1150 pound shells, and travels at the rate of 2800 feet per second. They decided to carry out orders. Everything went O. K. the rest of the night. Our landing force of 200 men equipped for a "march to the set" were landed safely under a lot of snipping, (which means shooting from house tops, from under docks or wherever they can hide themselves), and by this time it was 4:30 in the morning, and no one had any sleep during the night.

April 22, the day of the real battle, and the death of fourteen of our brave boys. About 5:30 we could hear our men sending volley after volley into the Mexicans. Our machine guns did great work. At this time we had captured the power house, terminal station, custom house and decided to form a company square and march down the street to the light house which is called the sanitary building, a very beautiful place.

In doing this there is a big yellow building which is called the Mexican Naval Academy, and which was filled with civilians and soldiers, and as our company marched by there was a deadly fire from every window it poured down upon our men, and as what we saw from the ship we thought all the men in this company were killed. We immediately received orders to open fire with our five-inch guns which we did joyously and fired thirteen shots and this put a silence to the Naval Academy as the 13 shots fired from the ship wrecked the whole place and killed something like 200 Mexicans. We later found that only seven of our men had been killed and wounded but the injurious fire was done from housetops and a Tower on the police station. All of the policemen here carry rifles of the latest type mostly German make.

The U. S. ship Chester, kept all three streets clear with her 3 inch battery and was continually shelling the outskirts of the town. The fighting kept up until late in the afternoon and by this time we had the town in our power and inside of three days the town was under United States martial law and Old Glory could be seen flying from all buildings and the band could be heard playing our sweet melodies in the Plaza and Mexican citizens who were neutral were out to see what was doing and were very respectful to the Americans. They would take their hats off when passing us, which I cannot say they would do before this trouble took place, and in a week after the battle business was going on and was much better than before. The Mexican currency is about three pesos for one dollar in United States currency.

On the 25th Admiral Fletcher gave orders to release all political prisoners from the old Mexican Fort Sann Juan Du Ula which took effect next day, and about 250 were let go. Some of them had been in confinement for 25 or 30 years. They did not want to leave when told that they were free. There are about 200 inside yet under the guard of our marines and in charge of Capt. Stockney of the U. S. ship Prairie. These men are mostly criminals.

On the eighth of May General Pena sent in word to our marine captain, who was in charge of the water works, which means everything in the world to the people of Vera Cruz, that he had ten minutes to surrender the place. The answer was: Do not loose any of that ten minutes getting back to your own lines and stay there and General Maas retreated from the city with 2000 men and did not attempt to make a stand against our boys, which caused President Huerta to make him resign.

At the present time everything is quiet, and we are carrying out Uncle Sam's motto, "In time of peace prepare for war", which we are doing. It is certainly a great sight to see the navy anchored at Vera Cruz, all in formation, and also see the boys going ashore. There are two liberty parties each day, one from 8:30 to 11:30 and from 1:30 to 5:00.

Chief petty officers and officers have the whole day to look around, and you certainly enjoy the curiosity of it. As to looking over the buildings that we shot up Uncle Sam has gotten just about all those repaired and in a few weeks you will not know that there ever was a battle in town.

The Mexicans cannot understand how our band could play after the battle of the 22nd of April, to see our boys two-stepping and waltzing around the Plaza in the street, just as if nothing had ever happened. We also want to extend thanks to our medical department's excellent work in caring for the wounded and dead. Our boys keep the Mexican prisoners busy cleaning up the streets, and keeping the whole town in a sanitary condition. Up to the present time there is excellent health among the men of the fleet, as this is a bad time of the year for yellow fever. The Montana carried all of the dead to New York for burial and also the hospital ship Solace brought the sick and wounded to the United States for better care than they could be given down here in the tropics. Lieutenant Lanning is improving rapidly and expects to be transferred home on the Prairie on the 26th for treatment in the Norfolk hospital. Our best wishes go with him. The United States ship South Carolina has been ordered to Puerto Plata Dacti, to protect Americans, So I think I have written enough for this time and with my very best wishes to all our friends and relatives in and around Portsmouth I remain sincerely yours,

ST. MARY'S COMMENCEMENT WAS AN IMPRESSIVE EVENT; CROWD FILLS BIG CHURCH

The commencement exercises of St. Mary's parochial school which were held at the parish church Thursday evening were marked by their earnestness and simplicity of character.

There was no long and formal program which attends so many affairs of this kind and to solemnize the exercises they were concluded with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament and the singing of the Te Deum.

Despite the intense heat and counter attractions the large edifice was well filled by the time the graduates of the commercial school filed in, the several hundred boy and girl pupils of the parochial school all attired in white forming an escort for the class. The graduates were seated in the front and the others occupied pews in the center aisle.

The exercises opened with the singing of several hymns, after which Rev. Father Francis M. Woesman, pastor of St. Mary's church of Marietta, Ohio, delivered the graduation address.

Father Woesman's address dealt largely with a review of the Catholic church's record in promoting education.

Made Fine Address

He said in part: "It is fitting that so many parents should be gathered here for this momentous occasion and by their presence show their interest in the welfare of their children. We are reminded from Holy Writ how Christ rebuked those who after a hard day's work wanted to be rid of the presence of children, he reminding them, 'For of such is the kingdom of heaven.'

"The Catholic church has always maintained in regard to education her Divine Master pointed out to her the interest He had in the welfare of the children and she is ever exercising her divine commission, 'Go ye and teach all nations and behold I will be with you until the end of time.'

"This has affected the church of God in enlightening its children, giving cheerfulness and purity in hearts. The church takes the little ones from the arms of mothers and shows them what they ought to do. She is charged rather with an indifference to education, with obstructing education and upholding ignorance. We hear this time and again and it is a serious charge but those who read history right and do not allow themselves to be prejudiced can not accept that the church is the foster mother of ignorance. From time to time she has been retarded in her work through persecutions and it was not until Constantine declared religious freedom that she was able to exercise her ministry effectively.

Has Glorious History

"Her history is that of Christian civilization. Many persons are misled by the references to the so-called dark ages but while it is true that the church met with many difficulties it was the church of Christ that was all that was left after the destruction of the Roman Empire. There were seventy universities in Europe before Luther was born and of the 148 universities in Europe today 118 were established by the Catholic church including Oxford, Leipsic and Heidelberg, but these were robbed from their owners. Oxford in its halycon days had 10,000 scholars, the University of Paris 20,000 while at the present time our largest universities have a maximum enrollment that does not exceed 5,000.

"Mere secular training does not produce the upright child for God. The system is not sufficient. Religion is the foundation of morality.

Teach Children To Be Honest

"We must teach the children to be honest and pure and mould their little minds to practice virtue and their education will then be doubly valuable. The teaching of morality is conducive to better intellectual training. It instills in the mind the requirement of duty to God. Teach man to be good and honest and you make him the best citizen.

"While taxed to support the great public school system of the country the church goes on in the even tenor of her own way, establishing and supporting its own schools, saving the country thereby $25,000,000 annually, looking after the educational wants of her own million children, not because she is opposed to the system or wants to obstruct it but because she full well realizes that education without morality or religion is not complete."

Says Church Is Education's Champion

The priest then cited one Protestant author after another in support of his claim that the Catholic church was always the greatest champion of education, how she has marched for more than fifteen hundred years at the head of human civilization and how the much maligned and despised monks copied and translated and preserved in their cells the Bible, the classic production of Greece and Rome and every work of antiquity which our higher schools use today.

"There is too little God Almighty and too much science in the schools today, a fact taken notice of by no less a personage than Vice President Marshall who said in a recent interview:

Quotes From Vice President

"'One of America's ills today is that there is too much science in the so-called educational system and too little God Almighty. There is this thing wrong in many of the churches, that because church and state are separate and the state makes the schools, the church feels itself absolved from any duty in the direction of education of the youth.

"'The state is permitted to mould children from the age of six up through the time when they are going through colleges, where many of the professors are agnostics and atheists. But now the church is awakening to the fact that children should be reared in the way of Christian faith from the nursery upward. I believe that there is in this country today a great spiritual awakening, and the church is beginning to see that it has turned over entirely too many of its functions to the state.'

"The Vice President also told what kind of a Socialist party he would join. 'But I shall never do this until it becomes a friend of the church; never while it flaunts on the streets a red banner in the face of the faith in God and the marriage service. The Socialism in which I believe, and to which I hope some day to adhere, is not that which concerns itself with consideration of power and property, but that of spirit.'"

Pays Tribute To Pastor

Father Woesman closed with a warm personal tribute to the pastor, Father T. Goebel and to show how he appreciated the importance of Catholic school training read a letter written to him by the latter in 1895. It accompanied a $125 check he sent to him towards the building of a parochial school at Marietta. The letter was filled with beautiful sentiments that bespoke the character of the writer who was then in his first year's ministry.

Diplomas Presented

At the close of the address Father Goebel presented each of the graduates with their diplomas. The special awards were then made, Miss Gertrude Frantz receiving a gold medal from the Remington company for proficiency in the use of a typewriter she showing a speed of 55 words per minute. All of the others were also presented with certificates, card cases, pennants, etc., from the Remington and Underwood companies for writing 40 words or more per minute.

The following are the graduates who received diplomas: Albert William Allemang, Evarist Frances Brennan, Ursula Otilda Billian, Elizabeth Margaret Brown, Wilda Catherine Cuppett, Josephine Sadie Doerr, Gertrude Rose Frantz, Irma Helena Holzman, Frank William Hornikel, Cora Alice Hyland, Frederick John Jeffords, Philip Bernard Meisel, Mary Agnes Pusateri, Esther Marcella Schreieck, Joseph Frank Sommer, Bertha Juli Welty.

The annual picnic of the St. Mary's parochial and commercial schools will be held at Millbrook park next Tuesday.

MOVIE HOUSE AT WAVERLY IS CLOSED

Deputy Inspector of Workshops and Factories M. Kehoe has caused gobs of gloom in Waverly because he ordered the only moving picture house in the village to close its doors. The order came as a result of a fence which has been erected on the Sheldon property in the rear of the place of amusement. The fence which put the show out of business was built to do away with the habit that various persons acquired to collect in the rear of the business houses along Main street and annoy the families who reside on Second street. Unless arrangements can be made to have gates cut through the fence, thus giving the room a rear outlet as required by law, Waverly will be without a nickleodeon. No other building in the city is suitable for such a place of amusement.

Hooray! Blood Free of Impurities

Eczema Gone! Acne, Tetter, Rash, Pimples, Carbuncles, Boils—Banished!

It is certainly remarkable how quickly the action of S. S. S., the famous blood purifier, shows itself in the skin.

There is one ingredient in S. S. S. which peculiarly stimulates cellular or glandular activity to select from the blood, or from the fine network of blood vessels in the skin, those elements which it requires for regeneration.

Thus pimples, acne, eczema, lupus, or any other blood condition that attacks the skin or seeks an outlet through the skin is met with the antidotal effect of S. S. S.

This is why skin troubles vanish so readily and why they do not return. Under the influence of S. S. S. this fine network of blood vessels in the skin is constantly selecting from the blood the nutrition required for healthy tissue, and the cause of disease is just as constantly being removed, scattered and rendered harmless.

You will be surprised and delighted at the quick change if you will use S. S. S., the famous blood purifier. Its action in the skin is quite sensational. These facts are most fully explained in a book on skin troubles sent by the Swift Specific Co., 213 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. You will find S. S. S. on sale at all drug stores. Get a bottle today and banish all skin afflictions.

When you ask for S. S. S. look out for the common trick of trying to sell you something else. Don't be misled.

"Come to Hansen's and I'll Show You!" A Grand Free Demonstration Will Be Held Saturday, June 13!

Come and have a good time with us and learn all about this wonderful Laurel Combination Range. Two ranges in one at the price of one. All the special "Laurel" fuel-saving features that have made the "Laurel" famous from shore to shore and a gas combination that beats the world. A coal and wood range in the winter when you need the heat—A gas range in the summer when you wish to keep your kitchen cool.

IT WILL BURN COAL AND GAS AT THE SAME TIME OR SEPARATELY

If your gas pressure is low, start the coal fire—no changes are necessary just ignite the coal—THAT'S ALL.

It has eight-hole top, four coal and four gas covers, all can be used at once.

If you desire to burn coal or wood only, a small cover slips over gas burner in oven bottom as shown here.

When coal and gas are used at the same time, the small cover over the burner is removed and baffle plate is set in oven bottom, prongs downwards. Sold only by Hansen's, licensed Laurel agents.

LIGHT REFRESHMENTS WILL BE SERVED FREE EACH DAY OF DEMONSTRATION.

FREE SOUVENIRS

FOR THE LADIES WHO ATTEND

No one will be urged to buy, but we'll gladly arrange terms to suit the convenience of those who see the many advantages and great economy of these ranges and who wish to profit by the use of a Laurel right away.
